

CBC Educational Sales • Canadian Broadcasting Corporation

CAI
BC 60
-C17

1990/91 Catalogue

CBC Enterprises
Les Entreprises Radio-Canada

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2022 with funding from University of Toronto

<https://archive.org/details/31761115506651>

Introduction	iii
Ordering Film & Video	iv
How to Order	iv
Shipping	iv
Conditions of Release	v
Copyright and the CBC	vi
Film and Video
Arts/Recreation	1
CBC-TV News in Review	7
Children	9
Environmental Studies	11
French as a Second Language (FSL)	15
History	17
Law	21
Media Literacy	25
Medicine/Health	27
Native and Northern Studies	33
Natural Sciences	37
Politics	43
Religion/Philosophy	47
Sociology	51
Technology	55
Index	57

CBC Enterprises
Les Entreprises Radio-Canada

Research	Patricia Black, Bob Fisher
Editor	Susan O'Connor
Project Manager	Brenda Aspler
Production Coordinator	Alison Diver

For more information, contact CBC Enterprises.

Toronto:

Box 500, Station A
Toronto, Ontario
Canada M5W 1E6
(416) 975-6384
Fax: (416) 975-3482
Telex: (06) 217796
CBCCOM TOR

London:

43 Great Titchfield St.
London W1P 8DD
U.K.
(071) 580-0336
Fax: (071) 323-5658
Telex: (51) 917738
CBC ENT G

New York:

Suite 5507
Empire State Bldg.
350 - 5th Avenue
New York, New York
10118 U.S.A.
(212) 760-1500
Fax: (212) 760-1501
Telex: (00) 126246
CBC NYK

INTRODUCTION

CBC Educational Sales is committed to fulfilling the needs of clients in the non-broadcast market. It is our hope that we can enrich your media collection with the finest programming from Canada's national broadcaster.

The educational process occurs in many situations, whether it be in schools and other academic institutions, public libraries, cultural organizations, businesses, community groups or through individual learning.

In the truest sense of the word "education," the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation may be the largest educational organization in the country. Representing this organization, we at Educational Sales promote the creative use of television as a learning tool and endeavor to provide programming that suits all educational needs. As the direct link between you and our program areas, we hope to expand the professional partnership that exists between the educational community and the CBC.

HOW TO ORDER

On all orders please quote the series title (where applicable), the program title, reference number, format required, quantity and preferred shipping method.

Mail your purchase order for CBC productions to:

CBC Educational Sales
Box 500, Station A
Toronto, Ontario
M5W 1E6

For further information telephone (416) 975-6384;
or fax (416) 975-3482.

SHIPPING

Canada and United States: All shipments are by Priority Post in Canada and air parcel post in the United States, unless otherwise requested. Shipping and handling fees are added to all invoiced orders.

Rates

Materials ordered	Add for Priority Post
1/2" videocassette (small Priority Post envelope)	$8.00
2-4 1/2" videocassettes (large Priority Post envelope)	$9.00
1 or 2 3/4" videocassettes (large Priority Post envelope)	$9.00
Regular Mail:	Current rates from Canada Post apply. Costs will vary according to distance, destination and weight.
Courier:	Rates vary according to distance, destination and weight.
Other countries:	Rates vary depending on destination and the shipping method used. Please contact CBC Enterprises for details.

Prices

All prices are subject to change without notice.

Availability of titles

All programs are available subject to continuing rights clearances.

CONDITIONS OF RELEASE

CBC television programs are released for educational and institutional use with the understanding that they will not be altered, re-sold, copied without permission or broadcast in any way, nor will they be shown to audiences where an admission fee is charged.

Duplication rights

Videocassette duplication rights are available for most CBC programs. Please contact CBC Enterprises for details and cost estimates.

Formats

Videocassettes: Videocassettes are available on 3/4-inch, Beta, or VHS formats. All prices quoted are for the 525-line North American standard. Estimates for the 625-line standards (PAL and SECAM) are available on request.

Film: For titles available on 16 mm please inquire.

Previews

Films and videos priced at more than $100 may be previewed for purchase. Requests must come via your media coordinator. There is no fee for this service, but materials must be returned pre-paid. All previews are on 1/2-inch videocassettes unless otherwise requested.

Rentals

CBC programs are available for purchase only, CBC Enterprises is unable to accommodate rental requests.

COPYRIGHT AND THE CBC

This information page clarifies the issue of copyright as it applies to the programming of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC). The following are some typical questions clients ask us.

1. Can I tape CBC programs off the air?

Taping CBC programs off the air for personal viewing in one's home is not an infringement of the Canadian copyright law. However, CBC programs may not be taped off the air for use in schools or other public places.

2. Can I use CBC programs in my classroom or in other public places such as a library or a community centre?

Programs to be used in these "public performance" situations must be cleared for non-broadcast use, which means that CBC must initiate a process of rights clearance, costs of which are reflected in the price of a program.

3. What type of rights does CBC have to its programming?

CBC has limited broadcast rights to its programming. Under the collective agreements with the artists' associations (principally the Alliance of Canadian Cinema, Television and Radio Artists (ACTRA), which includes writers and the American Federation of Musicians), CBC may broadcast a program a specified number of times in Canada as agreed upon in the production contract that is negotiated at the time of production. Any further broadcast or sale of the program as home video or institutional (educational) video requires additional rights clearance and payments.

4. What is involved in clearing rights for the use of CBC programs in the institutional/educational market?

Additional payments for non-broadcast use must be made to writers, performers and musicians according to the collective agreements of their associations.

Further payments may also be required for other elements that may be contained in a program. These may include the program's theme music, commissioned music or commercial recordings, stock footage or still photographs purchased from other sources for broadcast, copyrighted literary material used in the program and considerations owing to a producer or a co-producer.

For non-broadcast use, it may also be necessary to obtain permission from individuals or organizations to use footage of them that is contained in the program.

5. Does this apply to news and current affairs programs?

Under the current Canadian copyright legislation, no exceptions are made for news and current affairs programs. Moreover, these programs may also contain elements from other sources that were purchased for CBC's broadcast purposes only.

For more information contact:
CBC Educational Sales
Box 500, Station A
Toronto, Ontario M5W 1E6
Telephone (416) 975-6384
Fax (416) 975-3482

Arts Recreation

• Against Reason:

A Portrait of Jack McClelland

Length: 49:20 No.: X4J-85-10

Format: video

Awards: The Antoinette Krysky Canadian Heritage Award, Canada

A distinguished group of Canadian literary figures attests to the loyalty, survival skills and charm that have characterized the colorful publishing career of Jack McClelland. An affectionate portrait, Against Reason chronicles McClelland's triumphs and disappointments. Produced by Close Up Film Productions Inc., in association with CBC and with the participation of Telefilm.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• An Interview with Frédéric Back

Length: 30:00 No.: YHA-87-04

Format: video

In an interview with Madeleine Poulin, host of Radio-Canada's current affairs program, Le Point, Frédéric Back talks about his youth and the influences that shaped his career as an internationally renowned filmmaker. Winner of two Academy Awards for Crac!, The Man Who Planted Trees and a host of other international prizes, Back reveals in this interview the humanity and social consciousness that are inherent in his work. Clips from a number of his films are included as well as a segment showing the making of The Man Who Planted Trees. This English version of the original interview is an excellent companion piece to the study of his films.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• A Space for the Spirit

Length: 27:00 No.: Y8L-84-08

Format: video

To Raymond Moriyama, world-renowned Canadian architect, a building should not be confining, but liberating. It has to express human aspirations and encourage self-discovery while keeping the rain out. Roy Bonisteel sets out to discover why people get emotionally involved with Moriyama's work, and what makes the man himself a fascinating paradox.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Bold Steps — A Portrait of the National Ballet of Canada

Length: 81:15 No.: X4J-84-09

Format: video

The National Ballet of Canada — past, present and future — is saluted in this unforgettable portrait. Starring Rudolph Nureyev, Karen Kain and Mikhail Baryshnikov with Celia Franca and Erik Bruhn.

Price: 1/2" $99; 3/4" $150

• Chautauqua Girl

Length: 120:00 No.: WLF-83-02

Format: video

Filmed against the sweeping expanse of the Canadian Prairie, Chautauqua Girl recreates the 1920s with vintage cars, period costumes, innocent pleasures and a fictional prairie town. It's the romance of a traveling tent show, the excitement of a theatre curtain rising and the never-to-be-forgotten experience of fine music, uplifting lectures and Broadway dramas in a tent beside the railway tracks. This acclaimed drama is an excellent medium for studying the social and political issues of the time. Teachers will find this program useful in the following subject areas:

The Canadian Drama, History, Social Studies.

Price: 1/2" $360; 3/4" $400

• Degas

Length: 57:45 No.: XDA-87-09

Format: video

Degas features rarely viewed oils, pastels, drawings and sculpture by one of the most prolific artists of the nineteenth century. But it goes further, journeying into the private world that inspired works still enjoyed by thousands. Edgar Degas wanted to remain a mystery, but watching Degas gives a special insight into an artist whose work remains essentially modern.

Price: 1/2" $360; 3/4" $400

• Emily Carr

Part 1: Growing Pains

Part 2: Little Old Lady on the Edge of Nowhere

Length: 2 x 56:48 No.: X4J-75-02

Format: video and X4J-75-03

Canada's greatest woman artist lived and worked without recognition until her death in 1945 at age 74. This dramatized biography of Emily Carr, filmed in two parts, traces the loneliness and occasional poverty in which she worked. Some called her an eccentric, and others — such as the Indians she met in her lone travels with her paints — loved her.

Price (each): 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Ernest Thompson Seton: Keeper of the Wilds

Length: 54:60 No.: X4K-84-01

Format: video

Two of Ernest Thompson Seton's most famous stories — Lobo, King of Currumpaw and Krag, The Cootenay Ram — are dramatized to illustrate Seton's enduring and visionary outlook on the relationship between man and nature. A profile of Seton highlights his enduring belief in the rights of animals to live free of human interference.

Price: 1/2" $292; 3/4" $325

The Fifth Estate

The Fifth Estate has garnered some 50 national and international awards for its dedicated, investigative journalism. Unquestionably, The Fifth Estate has set and maintained its own high standards of excellence.

The Fifth Estate

Mississauga Jones

Length: 13:52 No.: Y8G-87-08

Format: video

Winner of the design competition for Mississauga's City Hall, architect Edward Jones created a celebrated building that has graced the covers of leading architectural magazines, putting Mississauga, the bedroom community just west of Toronto, on the map. Incorporating architectural themes from the Ontario countryside, the building features shapes reminiscent of barns, grain silos and windmills. Although the immense building has some spectacular features, such as a grand staircase and a stunning council chamber complete with mayor's throne, it has raised considerable controversy among experts and citizens alike.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Glenn Gould Plays Bach

The last television tapings of Canada's virtuoso pianist Glenn Gould, co-produced with the CBC by Claset Productions of Germany.

Prices:

Package of 3 videocassettes:

1/2" $180; 3/4" $380

Individual programs:

1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

See individual titles for order numbers.

Glenn Gould Plays Bach

Program 1: The Essentials of Bach's Keyboard Output

Length: 57:50 No.: X4J-83-03

Format: video

A view of Bach's place in the modern musical scene, and a discussion of the various options open to the modern performer-musicologist in interpreting the composer's intentions. Glenn Gould opens the program with a performance of the first fugue from The Art of the Fugue, Book 1.

Glenn Gould Plays Bach

Program 2: Bach and the Fugue

Length: 57:50 No.: X4J-83-04

Format: video

This program is chiefly concerned with Bach's counterpoint. The discussion portion of the show is balanced with musical illustrations, mostly from The Art of the Fugue.

Glenn Gould Plays Bach

Program 3: The Goldberg Variations

Length: 57:50 No.: X4J-82-03

Format: video

An uninterrupted performance of the complete Goldberg Variations by Glenn Gould — the work that launched his international career over 25 years ago. An informal interview with Gould discloses his reasons for re-recording this selection.

Hand and Eye

When hand and eye meet in creativity, the results can be extraordinarily beautiful. This seven-part series explores the human urge to express individuality while satisfying basic needs for useful and splendid objects. It focuses on certain materials, and on how artists enrich our lives by transforming these materials into things we value. Hosted by Canadian artist and novelist James Houston,

Hand and Eye brings together a surprising variety of some of the world's outstanding artists and craftspeople.

Prices:

Package of 7 videocassettes:

1/2" $400; 3/4" $900

Individual programs:

1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

See individual titles for order numbers.

Hand and Eye

Against Oblivion: Stone and Metal

Length: 55:20 No.: WOE-83-03

Format: video

Awards: Columbus Film Festival, United States: Chris Bronze Plaque

A look at present-day efforts to restore ancient works ravaged by environmental pollution, and at the masterpieces-in-the-making of contemporary artists. Highlights include stone sculpting in the Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, and a visit to the Taylor Bell Company of England where viewers learn that the harmonics of a bell are cast into its form.

Hand and Eye

All That Glistens

Length: 55:20 No.: WOE-83-01

Format: video

Awards: New York — International Film and TV Festival, United States: Gold Medal

A look at the traditions of great handcrafting in gold, silver and precious stones still found in Great Britain and Europe. Viewers meet designer Paloma Picasso in Paris and New York. Highlights include a flashback on the breathtaking accomplishments of Fabergé and a look at Canadian goldsmith Bill Reid, whose contemporary masterpieces are inspired by Haida Indian traditions.

Hand and Eye

Fire and Sand: The Mysteries of Glass

Length: 55:20 No.: X4K-80-01

Format: video

This program explores the history of glass from earliest Egyptian experiments with slates to 20th-century works by Galle, Tiffany and others. Included are a visit to the Steuben glassworks in Corning, N.Y., and a look at the use of glass in buildings and modern technology. The popularity of glass as seen in the art-glass movement now spreading across Europe and North America is explored.

Hand and Eye

Glorious Mud

Length: 55:20 No.: WOE-83-04

Format: video

Awards: American Film Festival, United States: Second Prize

English philosopher Herbert Read viewed pottery as the most abstract and domestic of the arts. Malleable clay can be transformed into any shape or color an artist may envisage. The late Michael Cardew, world-renowned British potter, is featured in this program with contemporary artists Tatsuzo Shimaoka, Robin Hopper, Joe Fafard and Viola Frey.

Hand and Eye

The Love of Gardens

Length: 55:20 No.: WOE-83-06

Format: video

Mankind has an enduring love of pleasure gardens, and this program takes viewers down the paths of some of the world's great gardens, including Monet's impressionist creation in France, Renaissance Italy's Villa Lante and a contemplative garden of sand and rocks in Kyoto, Japan.

Hand and Eye

Ties That Bind: Fibres

Length: 55:20 No.: WOE-83-02

Format: video

Civilization would be unimaginable without fibres, interlaced and transformed into baskets, ropes or cloth. This program explores several contemporary ways of using fibres, from fashioned forms and figures to a 24-mile fabric fence.

Hand and Eye

Touch Wood

Length: 55:20 No.: WOE-83-05
Format: video

Whether he is making a chair or a magnificent totem, an artist lets the individuality of the wood express its own characteristics along with his personal vision. A look at various artists and the versatility of wood as shown in a number of forms: contemporary Stations of the Cross created for a Trappist monastery in Quebec, a Renaissance altarpiece in Bavaria and boats, musical instruments and furniture.

• Lucy Maud Montgomery: The Road to Green Gables

Length: 86:50 No.: X4J-75-09
Format: video

This film portrait of author Lucy Maud Montgomery (Anne of Green Gables) was filmed largely on location in Prince Edward Island, her home and the setting of her novels. Though she died in 1942, Montgomery remains Canada's best-selling woman writer. Her life of rigid conventionality was touched frequently by inner suffering.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Man Alive

A unique award-winning series, Man Alive goes behind the headlines to look at controversial moral issues and the pain and triumph behind current events. The series has won wide praise for its sensitive treatment of a diverse range of complex issues.

Man Alive

The Genial Fanatic

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-88-02
Format: video

For Bill Mason, artist, author and filmmaker, creating is sharing. Mason has devoted a lifetime riding a canoe on a spiritual odyssey through Canada's most remote rivers and lakes, returning each year to share with others, in films, paintings and books, his passion for the humble craft, his joy in God's creation and his fanatical enthusiasm for the great Canadian wilderness. Man Alive profiles the man described by Pierre Elliott Trudeau as "a genial fanatic." Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

• The Man Who Planted Trees

Length: 30:00 No.: Z3A-86-01
Format: video

Awards: Anik Awards (2)

Annecy Int'l Film Festival
Rencontres Int'l de l'environnement et de la nature

First Int'l Sci-Tech and Medicine Film and TV
Festival

32nd Int'l Film Festival

Chicago Int'l Festival

Oscar, Best Animated

Short Film

National Educational Film
and Video Festival

The cinematographic artistry of Frédéric Back, creator of the prize-winning animated film Crac!, is showcased in this half-hour story about a man whose toil and dedication brought life to a barren, desolate region high in the French Alps. Back's distinctive illustrations offer an evocative visual complement to Jean Giono's flowing narrative as the story of shepherd Elzéard Bouffier unfolds. A man of few words but great determination, Bouffier single-handedly planted and nurtured a forest of thousands of oak trees. The narrator's fascination with the man and his mission draws him time and again to the mountains where he sees the windswept, forsaken landscape transformed into thriving villages and farmland, surrounded by Bouffier's incredible forest. This program is also available in French.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Music of Man

The Music of Man is a series of eight one-hour films that explore the role of music in western society. Five years in the making, and filmed in locations around the world, The Music of Man's programs offer a vast panorama of sound. Hosted by Sir Yehudi Menuhin, whose career is unparalleled in 20th century music, the series opens with the beginnings of man's awareness of sound and chronologically traces the development of his instinct for music-making to the present day. This series was produced by CBC Television in association with the Mississippi Authority of Educational Television and TV Ontario.

Prices:

Package of 8 videocassettes:

1/2" $700; 3/4" $1,100;

Order package no.: X4E-79-00

Individual programs:

1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

See individual titles for order numbers.

The Music of Man

The Quiver of Life

Length: 57:48 No.: X4E-79-01
Format: video

Music is one of man's few genuine inventions. We have created it from within ourselves; it is our identity. Prehistoric discoveries in Russia, the traditions of ancient Greece and India, and the primitive sounds of Africa are all part of the early story of music.

The Music of Man

The Flowering of Harmony

Length: 57:48 No.: X4E-79-02
Format: video

From the glories of the Renaissance came a new age of scientific and artistic accomplishment. The development of musical instruments began to challenge the dominance of the human voice, and violin-making reached its finest form in Italy with Stradivari and Guarneri. Lully was the musical giant at the Court of Versailles. In England, Purcell was perhaps the first great modern composer, and Handel brought forth works for voice of lasting inspiration.

The Music of Man

New Voices for Man

Length: 57:52 No.: X4E-79-03
Format: video

From plain chant in several cultures to the glories of Renaissance Venice, this program documents the unique western contribution of harmony and a reliable notation system through the music of Perotin, Dufay, Cabezon and Gabrieli. Throughout this period, music was largely rooted in the church. We see how Hebrew, Muslim, Eastern Orthodox and Roman Catholic traditions moved toward the Reformation, and influenced the European scene.

The Music of Man

The Age of the Composer

Length: 57:56 No.: X4E-79-04

Format: video

Following the age of Antonio Vivaldi, the focus of music moved north and emphasis turned to the great individual composers — Bach, Mozart, Haydn, Beethoven and Schubert — whose finest works are still the best-loved “serious” music of today. With them came the symphony orchestra and the presentation of concerts and solo artists performing music for its own sake.

The Music of Man

The Age of the Individual

Length: 57:49 No.: X4E-79-05

Format: video

The Romantic Era in music was in full flower, continuing its appeal to the emotions through the soaring sounds of Berlioz, Chopin, Liszt and Bruckner. Europe became industrialized; music was urbanized and put to use for the rise of nations. Wagner cut harmony loose from its moorings, and the musical traditions of Russia became part of western culture.

The Music of Man

The Parting of the Ways

Length: 57:49 No.: X4E-79-06

Format: video

Following World War I in Europe, a revolution in music took place, led by Schoenberg, Berg and Varèse. In America, serious music began to come of age, as exemplified by Aaron Copland. Radio and sound-movies were popularizing all forms of music. It was a time of musical giants such as Kreisler, Toscanini and Stokowski. It was also a time for the folk traditions of blues, calypso and jazz to be incorporated into the mainstream of the world's music.

The Music of Man

The Known and the Unknown

Length: 57:50 No.: X4E-79-07

Format: video

As the world moved into the 20th century, it seemed that everyone was making music. There was a piano in every parlor, Victorian tear-jerkers in the music halls, tone poems in the concert halls. Stravinsky shocked the musical world with the Rite of

Spring, and Nijinsky the dance world with Debussy's Prelude to the Afternoon of a Faun. Immigrants to America brought with them their many musical traditions. And in the midst of this welter of sound and style, the audio recording was invented.

The Music of Man

Sound or Unsound

Length: 57:50 No.: X4E-79-08

Format: video

The postwar explosion of music — led by the LP, the transistor, and television — took western popular music out of jazz into folk and rock, while concert music began experiments with electronics, chance and progress. All the old rules were questioned. In this program, the media career of Glenn Gould shares space with the Javanese gamelan and The Beatles.

• The Mystery of Henry Moore

Length: 83:42 No.: X4J-84-08

Format: video

Describing the exact moment, at age 11, when he decided to become a sculptor, Henry Moore recounts a broad range of experiences that shaped his work. Harry Rasky's program captures the emotional impact of Moore's work, and takes viewers to collections around the world.

Price: 1/2" $360; 3/4" $400

The Nature of Things

For over 25 years this internationally acclaimed science series has rewarded viewers with vivid explorations into the wonders of nature and technology. The Nature of Things entertains as well as educates with lucid explanations for everything from animal behavior to mechanical operations. Host David Suzuki and the production team show rare dedication and commitment to helping us understand the world in which we live.

The Nature of Things

Conducting

Length: 26:16 No.: WOF-86-12

Format: video

This episode of The Nature of Things reveals the language behind a conductor's gestures and visits the master class for conductors at the Julliard School of Music, where, under the guidance of Jorge Mester, students prepare to become conductors of some of the most prestigious orchestras in the world.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Fly Fishing

Length: 17:02 No.: WOF-84-04

Format: video

Host David Suzuki learns how to become a successful fly fisherman. Enlightened by the knowledge of ecology and the appreciation of natural beauty, fly fishermen in Canada and the United States fight for conservation legislation.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• The Passionate Canadians

Length: 2 x 56:50 No.: X4J-78-03

Format: video and X4J-78-04

The story of The Group of Seven, the first truly Canadian school of painting. Passionate about art and country, the Group had to fight to establish their work and their place as pioneers in the development of an authentic Canadian style. Part 1 recreates the setting in which they first came together in 1919. Part 2 traces the artists' individual careers as they become known for their work.

Prices:

Package of 2 videocassettes:

1/2" $190; 3/4" $295

Individual programs:

1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Robert Bateman: Artist and Naturalist

Length: 56:50 No.: X4J-84-04

Format: video

Awards: American Film Festival,

United States: First Prize

An intimate portrait of Canadian artist and naturalist Robert Bateman, highlighting his relationships with his work, his family and the natural environment that inspires him. Viewers accompany Bateman on a teaching assignment in the Queen Charlotte Islands and observe him at an exhibit of his works. Bateman provides much of his own narration. An avid preservationist, he allows his art to serve as a reminder of the vast treasury of wildlife now in danger of extinction.

Price: 1/2" $360; 3/4" $400

CBC-TV News in Review

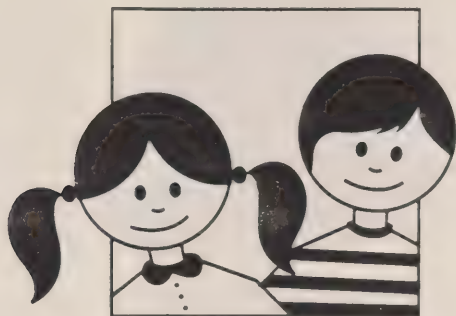

CBC-TV News in Review

CBC-TV News in Review, our new video subscription service, integrates news programming into the curriculum.

From September to June each year, subscribers will receive ten videocassettes: eight that review selected monthly news events, examining their impact from a Canadian perspective, and two "specials" which take an in-depth look at a major news story. Each video is accompanied by an extensive resource guide for which full reproduction rights have been granted at no extra charge. Produced in collaboration with the internationally-acclaimed CBC-TV National News, each cassette features a prominent host from CBC's national news team.

Back copies of CBC-TV News in Review as well as the two yearly specials may be purchased separately. For prices, please contact CBC Educational Sales.

Children

Mr. Dressup

Mr. Dressup is a half-hour oasis of gentle and creative fun for young children. Canada's most widely viewed children's program.

Mr. Dressup

Block Parents Are Good Friends

Length: 28:50 No.: YUF-83-01

Format: video

Mr. Dressup, Casey and Finnegan explore the significance and contribution of Block Parents to the well-being of children. The dramatization of a block parent's response to attempted abduction is especially geared to children. Songs and picture-story highlight the discussion.
Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Under the Umbrella Tree

Under the Umbrella Tree is a series of 15-minute programs that uses stories to focus on issues of importance to younger children. Two programs are packaged on each 30-minute tape. The stories revolve around Holly (Holly Larocque), a young writer/illustrator, and her three roommates: Iggy the iguana, Gloria the gopher and a blue-jay named Jacob, three puppets created by Noreen Young. The programs are especially useful for exploring important issues in a supportive and fun atmosphere, and are useful for such areas of study as Children's Programming and Literature, Early Childhood Education and Child Psychology. Under the Umbrella Tree is also featured in the Children's Television component of Inside the Box. Produced by Noreen Young Productions Inc., in association with CBC Ottawa and with assistance from Telefilm Canada.

Prices:

Package of 5 videocassettes:

1/2" $399; 3/4" $450

Order package no.: YUT-89-00

Individual programs:

1/2" $99; 3/4" $150

See individual programs for order numbers.

Under the Umbrella Tree

Program 1

Length: 30:00 No.: YUT-89-01

Format: video

Laundry Day:

While Holly and Gloria are at the library, Iggy and Jacob decide to use the washer and dryer.

Gloria's Bath:

Gloria wants to have the first bath after the hot water has come back on again. But everyone else gets in the tub before she does.

Under the Umbrella Tree

Program 2

Length: 30:00 No.: YUT-89-02

Format: video

Little Blue Riding Hood:

The Umbrella Tree Players present their version of Little Red Riding Hood — with Jacob as "Little Blue."

The Three Silly Goats Gruff:

A box of souvenirs from Holly's childhood prompt the Umbrella Tree Players' adaptation of The Three Billy Goats Gruff.

Under the Umbrella Tree

Program 3

Length: 30:00 No.: YUT-89-03

Format: video

Under the Stairs:

Iggy is afraid to go down to the basement alone because of the Hooga Booga Monster under the stairs.

Recycling:

Holly shows Iggy and Jacob how to recycle old newspapers, cans and bottles, and Gloria makes a lamp from a discarded bleach container.

Under the Umbrella Tree

Program 4

Length: 30:00 YUT-89-04

Format: video

Jacob's Leaky Roof:

Jacob insists on being independent and fixing the leak in his birdhouse all by himself. He finds out that sometimes it's nice to have a little help from friends.

Gloria Iguana:

Iggy has a cold and can't give his talk to the Lizard Club. Gloria dresses up as a lizard and goes in his place.

Under the Umbrella Tree

Program 5

Length: 30:00 No.: YUT-89-05

Format: video

The Lizard Pin:

Holly borrows Iggy's special lizard pin and is beside herself when she loses it.

Basement Business:

After Iggy makes a wooden garden lizard with Mr. Johnson's help, Jacob turns the exercise into a cottage industry. Everyone discovers that having a business is hard work.

What's New?

What's New? is CBC's television magazine for young people.

What's New?

A Christmas Past

Length: 30:00 No.: YUL-87-01

Format: video

Join the fun and find out what life was really like in the days gone by with this program from CBC's

What's New? series. Hosts Howard Green and Suhana Meharchand examine the commercialism of Christmas and contrast this with the simplicity of Christmas during pioneer days. They are transported back in time to Pioneer Village in Toronto to take a look at how families prepared for the holiday season.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Environmental Studies

A Planet for the Taking

An outstanding eight-part documentary, the result of years of research and filming around the world, A Planet for the Taking offers a compelling look at the natural world and our place in it.

Instead of working with nature, we try to master it — a tendency that could result in the destruction of all living things. Yet, all the while, our growing technology yields wondrous insights into ancient mysteries of matter and life. The series illustrates that we are a part of nature and that our survival is inextricably bound to a healthy environment.

Series host David Suzuki, world-renowned geneticist and radio and television host, calls A Planet for the Taking "the single most important thing I've ever worked on." This scientific and visionary look at the human imprint on our planet sounds a warning that will echo to posterity.

Prices:

Package of 8 videocassettes:

1/2" $700; 3/4" $1,100

Order package no.: X4E-79-00

Individual programs:

1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

See individual titles for order numbers.

A Planet for the Taking

Human Nature

Length: 52:11 No.: WOH-84-01

Format: video

"The more science reveals about how nature works," says host David Suzuki, "the more we use science to create technologies — harnessing nature, rebuilding the world to suit our purposes." Through an in-depth look at the relationship of man to his planet, from the secrets of the DNA double helix to a close-up on a tribe in peaceful coexistence with nature in the Kalahari desert, this first program in the series assesses man's urgent need to rethink his priorities.

A Planet for the Taking

Mythmakers

Length: 52:11 No.: WOH-84-02

Format: video

The evolution of mythology, spanning primitive and contemporary ideas. A close-up of the San people of Botswana examines myths representing the intermingling of the animal and the spirit worlds of nomadic hunters, while a look at various

Hindu ceremonies reveals a mythos reflecting a hierarchy of men and gods. On location on the island of Samos, the birthplace of Pythagoras, we are told that the door to modern science opened with the triumph of order and reason in Greece.

A Planet for the Taking

Subdue the Earth

Length: 52:11 No.: WOH-84-03

Format: video

The relationship between cultural conditioning and scientific observation, based on the premise that to master anything we must first understand it, and that what we see is colored by a projection of our own tendencies. Viewers observe a baboon family and a colony of yellow-headed blackbirds, first from the perspective of territorial aggression, and then from the perspective of bonding, togetherness and friendship. Footage is the same for each perspective: only our viewing attitude has been altered. Darwin's theory of evolution, considered against the backdrop of fiercely competitive class-conscious post-industrial England, seems but an extension of Victorian British chauvinism.

A Planet for the Taking

Who Needs Nature?

Length: 52:11 No.: WOH-84-04

Format: video

The roots of man's need for contact with the animal kingdom, taking into account the exploitation of animals as victims, commodities and entertainment. The physical and psychological torments inflicted on animals in our attempts to train them is illustrated by a parrot that was literally driven crazy. The ritualistic slaughter of a bullfight shows the systematic inflicting of these torments until defence is impossible. Even our need to control vegetation is explored; our desire to transform plants into "obedient pets" is seen through various trends in landscaping.

A Planet for the Taking

The Ultimate Slavery

Length: 52:11 No.: WOH-84-05

Format: video

This program delves deeply into the horrors of man's control over animals. A special look is given to the plight of the domesticated animal which will grow larger but never grow up, remaining in a life-long state of social immaturity. Shown are various ways in which this control is asserted to produce genetic superiority in livestock, such as artificial insemination and embryo transplants. Painful branding, ear-clipping and hacking off horns are routine; so are factory farming of cattle and fowl, and rabbits pilloried for ocular testing of experimental compounds. With a thought-provoking twist, "domesticated" is replaced by "civilized", and the focus is turned on humanity and its slavery to technology.

A Planet for the Taking

Improving on Nature

Length: 52:11 No.: WOH-84-06

Format: video

From the birth of a baby in a remote village in India to a machine that manufactures DNA according to scientists' specifications, this program examines the supplanting of personal biological destiny by technological advance. A close-up of a residential school for handicapped children reveals the consequences of the shunt invented to save the lives of babies afflicted with spina bifida. From the "Brave New World of baby-making," we are shown such innovations as amniocentesis, ultrasound, fetal surgery and an embryo implant. A scenario on the history of eugenics and a look at the issue of the potential effects of DNA manipulation are included.

A Planet for the Taking

At War with Death

Length: 52:11 No.: WOH-84-07

Format: video

The culturally conditioned approach to death, including the funeral celebrations of the Malagash people in Madagascar, preparations for a funeral pyre in India and the North American funeral parlor. In the so-called civilized world, "we battle death with every technological weapon at our disposal." Close-ups are provided of a hospital emergency room, cryonic suspension in San Francisco and the bubble-protected world of David, a boy born without an immune system.

A Planet for the Taking

The Runaway Brain

Length: 52:11 No.: WOH-84-08

Format: video

Encompassing a series of interviews with writers, scientists and Nobel laureates, this program addresses some of the problems created by technology. Technology has promised to improve our lives, yet the current attitude is that if technology created problems, the solution must be more technology. Often — and to our peril — we forget that “we arose out of an ecosystem and are embedded in it.” The program assesses how the newest findings in science reveal the truth behind the ancient intuition that there is unity in all things.

Country Canada

The following programs focus on the issue of water resources in Canada. Produced in Winnipeg, each program examines a different aspect of the issue of water as a natural resource, and explores the political and ecological impact.

Country Canada

Cultivating a Disaster

Length: 13:32 No.: WOA-89-02

Format: video

Agriculture needs large quantities of clean water, but agricultural practices themselves have added to the water-pollution problem.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Country Canada

Currents of Change

Length: 19:04 No.: WOA-89-01

Format: video

The southern United States has always looked to the Great Lakes as a source of water, but politicians on both sides of the border are resisting large-scale diversion.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Country Canada

Hidden Agenda

Length: 13:11 No.: WOA-89-04

Format: video

The theory that large-scale diversion of Canadian water to the United States is in the works, and a system of dams being systematically built for it, refuses to go away and is fueled by projects like RatFerry-Alameda and Oldman.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Country Canada

The Real Cost of Power

Length: 17:34 No.: WOA-89-03

Format: video

When governments decide on water diversion at any cost, the effects can be dismal. Witness what happened to communities around South Indian Lake in Manitoba.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

The Nature of Things

For over 25 years this internationally acclaimed science series has rewarded viewers with vivid explorations into the wonders of nature and technology. The Nature of Things entertains as well as educates with lucid explanations for everything from animal behavior to mechanical operations. Host David Suzuki and the production team show rare dedication and commitment to helping us understand the world in which we live.

The Nature of Things

Amazonia: The Road to the End of the Forest

Length: 96:24 No.: WOF-89-05

Format: video

The Amazon Basin contains more than half the world's tropical rain forests — the planet's richest wildlife habitat. But in the last 20 years, policies of government and agribusiness in Brazil have destroyed the rain forest at an escalating pace.

All nations suffer the consequences of ozone-layer damage and the resultant warmer climate. Amazonia explores the causes and consequences of this on-going catastrophe.

Price: 1/2" $218; 3/4" $320

The Nature of Things

Great Lakes: Troubled Waters (Update)

Length: 54:04 No.: WOF-84-08

Format: video

This The Nature of Things update takes a look at the abuse of one of the world's natural wonders — the Great Lakes — focusing on the Niagara Falls drainage basin, a “toxic time bomb” and repository of more than 250 chemical dump sites. Technologies to detect and exorcise contaminants in the system are described and viewers learn why the ideal solution to this dire situation is unreachable.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Home of the Birds

Length: 47:09 No.: WOF-87-01

Format: video

For 1,000 kilometres east of Quebec City, along the north shore of the St. Lawrence River, archipelagos of small islands and rocks are home to many species of sea birds. In recent decades, however, they have suffered an alarming drop in population, mainly due to the devastating effects of hunting and eggging. Interviews with biologists, conservationists and the local populace outline projects underway to help replenish this precious wildlife resource.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Howe Sound: Poisoned Waters

Length: 46:20 No.: WOF-89-11

Format: video

Toxic discharge from two pulp mills has closed shellfish harvesting in Howe Sound, north of Vancouver. The two mills have been breaking British Columbia's pollution laws for years. Local environmental groups say the provincial government did not enforce compliance. Howe Sound: Poisoned Waters looks at the pollution caused by pulp mills and the bitter fight surrounding the operation of the two mills in Howe Sound.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Let the Wild Things Grow

Length: 22:00 No.: WOF-88-05

Format: video

Every spring, gardeners deluge the environment with fertilizers, pesticides and herbicides to create the perfect garden. But the realization that local plants and animal life are being decimated by urbanization and traditional landscaping has inspired a new movement to conserve natural habitats within city boundaries. Adaptable and requiring little care, these new-style gardens and parks cost less, require no fertilizers and pesticides, and city wildlife loves them.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Recycling

Length: 10:44 No.: WOF-86-04

Format: video

Canadians generate more than 16 million metric tonnes of waste a year — over one kilogram a day per person. One-quarter of it is made up of newspapers, glass bottles and steel cans that can be re-used. Most of it ends up in land-fill sites. Is all this garbage really necessary? The Ontario cities of Kitchener and Mississauga have instituted ambitious curbside recycling programs, and have reduced needless waste going to land fill by 15%.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Return to the Land

Length: 23:00 No.: WOF-88-07

Format: video

Chandrasheka Ketkar, a scientist and international expert on renewable agriculture, has devoted some 30 years to developing farming techniques that will restore the fertility of the land around his hometown of Pune, near Bombay. In addition to providing seeds, support and information to farmers in the area, Ketkar has persuaded many of those who left to return to the land and restore its productivity.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Sea of Slaughter

Length: 94:51 No.: WOJ-89-05

Format: video

Author Farley Mowat chronicles man's selfish and systematic destruction of the numerous species living in and near the Atlantic Ocean. Sea of Slaughter details the growth of ocean-based industries along the coast from Labrador to Cape Cod.

As one species was depleted, fishermen turned to others to meet consumer demand. Camera crews document in graphic detail the recent slaughter of whales, seal pups, lobsters, herring and tuna. "Where there are animals to kill, we'll find ingenious ways to convert them into profit," Mowat says, and modern technology facilitates this plunder.

Mowat warns that we must change our attitudes toward other living creatures if the Atlantic waters will ever again become a sea of life.

Price: 1/2" $218; 3/4" $320

The Nature of Things

Serving Time

Length: 47:00 No.: WOF-87-07

Format: video

The Nature of Things visits zoos around the world and examines what life in captivity means not only to the animals but to generations of humans to come. Human settlement has encroached on the habitat of wild animals and hunting has brought many species close to extinction. As they disappear at an alarming rate, many species will find their last and only home in the zoo. The Nature of Things looks at what measures zoos are taking to try and stop this devastating wave of extinction.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Strike Force

Length: 30:00 No.: WOF-87-10

Format: video

Toxic wastes are the poisonous legacy of our industrial society, and an astonishing 90 percent are disposed of illegally. In California, a law-enforcement strike force — which includes scientists, lawyers and health officials — has been instrumental in not only charging polluters, but in many cases sending them to jail. Unfortunately though, even officially designated landfill sites produce health risks and odors that concern neighboring communities.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

When the Wells Run Dry

Length: 23:03 No.: WOF-88-07

Format: video

Accelerated by drought and the impact of technology, the water tables in southern India have dropped dramatically. As a result, Tamil farmers, whose ancestors have harvested the land for a thousand years, face a bleak future. This program examines the politics of water in a parched land.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

French as a Second Language (FSL)

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

A new series from Radio-Canada, the French-language network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, available on videocassettes.

Prices:

Package of 12 videocassettes:

1/2" $1,999; 3/4" $2,250

Order package no.: YHA-00-0A

Package of 8 videocassettes:

(program nos. 1 — 8) 1/2"

$1,200; 3/4" $1,400

Order package no.: YHA-00-0B

Package of 4 videocassettes:

(program nos. 9 — 12) 1/2" $999;

3/4" $1,115

Order package no.: YHA-00-0C

Individual programs:

See individual titles for prices and order numbers.

Please note: Full teaching guides are included with each video and full reproduction rights to the guides are granted at no charge.

Although reproduction rights to the teaching guides are included, to facilitate the implementation of this project clients may wish to purchase extra guides.

Prices: $10 each; $70 set of 12

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

1. En cerf-volant le Québec

Length: 50:23 No.: XZB-85-02

Format: video

An impressionistic view of Quebec and its most beautiful landscapes with commentary by nine of Quebec's best-known singers, authors and composers.

Price: 1/2" $250; 3/4" $275

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

2. Accidents nucléaires

Length: 21:12 No.: YHA-83-04

Format: video

A gripping documentary that reveals how a simple human error can lead to a serious nuclear threat.

Price: 1/2" $250; 3/4" $275

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

3. Le Cinéma de Frédéric Back

Length: 57:00 No.: Z3A-87-01

Format: video

Three* animated films from Oscar-winning director Frédéric Back are the medium for exploring culture, history, language and human values.

*In the United States, there is only one film on the cassette: Tout rien.
Price: 1/2" $250; 3/4" $275

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

4. Expo '86 : Aujourd'hui j'ai vu mon rêve

Length: 46:00 No.: YHA-86-05

Format: video

A visual retrospective of the color and excitement of Expo '86 in Vancouver, this video highlights the theme of transportation and stars the multi-national cast of Expo '86.

Price: 1/2" $250; 3/4" $275

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

5. Le Téléjournal

Length: 50:23 No.: YHA-87-01

Format: video

A collection of historical events as they were actually reported on Le Téléjournal.

Price: 1/2" $250; 3/4" $275

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

6. Radio-Canada, ça se voit!

Length: 21:46 No.: YHA-87-02

Format: video

This collection of promotional announcements will create an awareness of the diversity of programming to be found on Radio-Canada, our national French-language network.

Price: 1/2" $250; 3/4" $275

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

7. Prévert, rose ou bleu?

Length: 27:50 No.: YHW-79-08

Format: video

Visual and musical poetry, this video invites us to view the world of the adult through the sensitive and critical eyes of the child.

Price: 1/2" $250; 3/4" $275

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

8. Le Fin mot de la chose

Length: 19:00 No.: Z3A-87-02

Format: video

A series of short segments presenting French words and expressions in a comic and visually stimulating fashion, this video is especially appropriate for very young students.

Price: 1/2" $250; 3/4" $275

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

9. Carmen

Length: 152:00 No.: X4J-86-01

Format: video

Filmed on location in Spain, this version of Bizet's famous opera that features Plácido Domingo and Julia Migenes-Johnson is easily segmented. It introduces students to an important art form and to the splendor of Spanish culture.

Price: 1/2" $495; 3/4" $550

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

10. Animagination

Length: 46:00 No.: Z3A-00-00

Format: video

Targeted for younger students, this compilation of short animated films, most without dialogue, emphasizes creative activities, imagination and values clarification.

Price: 1/2" $250; 3/4" $275

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

11. Interview avec Frédéric Back (Le Point)

Length: 30:00 No.: YHA-87-04

Format: video

Viewers see the animation process of some of Frédéric Back's most famous films, in particular L'Homme qui plantait des arbres, and gain insight into the philosophy, wisdom and art of the award-winning animator as he talks with Madeleine Poulin.

Price: 1/2" $125; 3/4" $140

Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure!

12. Le Téléroman

Length: 60:00 No.: WWP-88-00

Format: video

Le Parc des Braves is the focal point for examining the uniquely québécois phenomenon of the téléroman, and its many social, cultural and historical implications.

Price: 1/2" $250; 3/4" $275

History

• Captain James Cook

Length: 50:47 No.: X4K-78-01
Format: video

An in-depth dramatization of the voyage to Tahiti of the great navigator, Captain James Cook, two centuries ago. Commissioned by the Royal Society to observe the transit of Venus across the face of the sun, Cook led his men with stern resolve to accomplish this goal. He then sailed to New Zealand where he mapped the coastline and circum-navigated both islands, claiming Australia for Great Britain.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• The Golden Mountain: The Chinese in Canada

Length: 85:35 No.: X4J-82-01
Format: video

An account of the triumphs and hardships — with dramatized inserts — of the Chinese pioneers who came to Canada during the last century. This documentary includes historical and cultural aspects from the Gold Rush to present-day integration into the mainstream of Canadian society.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Grey Owl

Length: 56:49 No.: X4J-72-04
Format: video

An account of the major events of the turbulent life of Grey Owl, an Englishman who claimed he was a Canadian Indian. It was not until his death at age 50 that Grey Owl's true identity was revealed, and history has yet to decide whether he was a glory-seeking imposter, or a great pioneer naturalist and forerunner of many contemporary attitudes toward environmental preservation.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• In Champlain's Footsteps

Length: 20:00 No.: Y8R-89-03
Format: video

On 4 June 1988, a gallant band of adventurers donned period clothing, packed authentic canoes and set off for the Ottawa River in a re-creation of Samuel de Champlain's voyage 375 years earlier. This event was organized by the National Capital Commission and filmed by CBC cameras. The video documents their trip and also recounts stories of Champlain's voyage to New France. Also available in French.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

The National Dream

This bold, dramatic series captures the epic struggles to open the Canadian West and at last join Canada from sea to sea.

Prices:

Package of 8 videocassettes:

1/2" $700; 3/4" $1,100

Order package no.: X4G-73-00

Individual programs:

1/2" $99; 3/4" $150

See individual titles for order numbers.

The National Dream

Episode 1: The Great Lone Land

Length: 54:00 No.: X4G-73-02

Format: video

The government of Sir John A. Macdonald announces its intentions to build a railway to the Pacific, bring British Columbia into Confederation and preserve Canadian sovereignty from sea to sea.

The National Dream

Episode 2: The Pacific Scandal

Length: 53:58 No.: X4G-73-06

Format: video

Charges of corruption and intrigue ring out against the Macdonald government as the Pacific scandal comes to a head. The Prime Minister delivers an impassioned defence in the House, but independent MP Donald Smith breaks a Commons deadlock and Sir John resigns.

The National Dream

Episode 3: The Horrid B.C. Business

Length: 54:00 No.: X4G-73-04

Format: video

Canada reels in the throes of a depression as Prime Minister Mackenzie vainly tries to cope with inherited Pacific Railway frustrations. Mackenzie's health wanes as surveyors squabble, contractors milk the public purse and B.C. clamors for the promised railway. If the railway is to be salvaged, Sir John A. Macdonald must rise from the political ashes.

The National Dream

Episode 4: The Great Debate

Length: 54:00 No.: X4G-73-03

Format: video

Back in power, Sir John A. Macdonald reluctantly agrees to name Donald Smith, Jim Hall and George Stephen as heads of the syndicate that will build the railway. Though capable, resourceful capitalists, they are tainted by U.S. railway connections. After an exhausting marathon debate, the House passes the government's railway bill.

The National Dream

Episode 5: The Railway General

Length: 54:00 No.: X4G-73-07

Format: video

New cities spring up as the railway snakes across the prairies. Dynamic William Cornelius Van Horne is appointed CPR general manager, and he profoundly influences the future of western Canada by his placement of railway stations — new population centres.

The National Dream

Episode 6: The Sea of Mountains

Length: 54:00 No.: X4G-73-08

Format: video

Construction in B.C. is painstakingly slower than on the prairies, and suave contractor Andrew Onderdonk lures thousands of coolies from China to help hack and tunnel through the Rockies. As the CPR creeps over the continental spine, trouble looms on the horizon.

The National Dream

Episode 7: The Desperate Days

Length: 54:00 No.: X4G-73-01

Format: video

Slow, arduous construction in the mountains and north of Superior sends costs soaring as the CPR faces financial calamity. Sir John A. Macdonald is distracted by mounting troubles in the West as farmers, Indians and Métis cry for redress. In a desperate gamble, Van Horne offers to transport 9,000 troops from the East to quell the rebellion.

The National Dream

Episode 8: The Last Spike

Length: 54:05 No.: X4G-73-05

Format: video

Eastern militiamen begin the cruelest journey in Canadian military history and the national crisis is averted. The CPR faces riots, strikes and bankruptcy before an eleventh-hour government loan saves the day. In November 1885 Donald Smith drives the last spike in the CPR to link Canada from sea to sea.

• Riel

Length: 150:00 No.: WLF-79-06
Format: video

In 1868, Sir John A. Macdonald's dream of a nation stretching from sea to sea threatens the livelihood of the Métis, the half-French, half-Indian hunters of the prairies. Assuming their leadership is the 24-year-old, Montreal-educated Louis Riel. A peaceful solution seems imminent until Riel's provisional government tries and executes a Canadian for treason, sparking a chain of events that leads to the bloody Northwest Rebellion of 1885.

Price: 1/2" $405; 3/4" $450

• The Trials of Lord Selkirk

Part 1: Kingdom on Red River

Length: 54:56 No.: WON-83-02
Format: video

Awards: National Educational Film Festival, United States: Honorable Mention

A strikingly clever and often humorous look at the motives of Lord Selkirk, tried in the early 19th century for events leading to the destruction of the North West Company of Montreal. Lord and Lady Selkirk themselves pay a visit to present-day Winnipeg, championed by a "middle-of-the-road" historian and antagonized by a radical historian. Scenes from Lord Selkirk's unjust trial are dramatized, and the scope of his accomplishments is assessed.

Includes dramatized interviews with settlers whose lot he tried to better.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• The Trials of Lord Selkirk

Part 2: The Pedlars and the Earl

Length: 55:00 No.: WON-83-02
Format: video

Awards: National Educational Film Festival, United States: Honorable Mention

Lord and Lady Selkirk return again to the 20th century, and incriminating evidence is stacked against the North West Company in the fate of the Red River settlement. In a surprising turn of events, Lord Selkirk becomes the interrogator, and the radical historian his champion. Gradually the true character and motivation of Lord Selkirk are established.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Winners

The Winners is a series of ten half-hour programs that profile outstanding Canadians. Producer Laura Phillips attests: "It's very exciting to put together some of Canada's top talent for a single film, and it's especially gratifying to do it in a film that is a tribute to the Canadian spirit." Though distinctly unique in background and temperament, each of the ten people profiled has triumphed against odds to accomplish his or her goals to become a winner.

Prices:

Package of 10 videocassettes:

1/2" $990; 3/4" $1,500

Individual programs:

1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Winners

Beyond Fear

Length: 27:50 No.: WLK-82-02
Format: video

The early hardships encountered by scientist Vihjalmur Stefansson during his years of Arctic exploration. His courage and endurance enabled him to find and name for Canada the last unclaimed lands in the world — Borden and MacKenzie King Islands.

The Winners

Charlotte Whitton

Length: 23:38 No.: WLK-82-03
Format: video

The rise to political acclaim of the fiery — though steadfast — Charlotte Whitton is depicted. Five times the mayor of Ottawa, Whitton brought into office the same concern for human welfare that infused her university days.

The Winners

Dr. Marion Hilliard

Length: 24:20 No.: WLK-82-09
Format: video

The individual crusade of Dr. Marion Hilliard, pioneer of modern obstetrical care at Toronto's Women's College Hospital. Heroic personal traits flash forth in the unfolding of her quest for higher standards and teaching status for the hospital during the 1930s outbreak of childbirth fever.

The Winners

Emily Murphy

Length: 23:35 No.: WLK-82-08
Format: video

Emily Murphy's dignified approach to women's rights is dramatized, beginning with her outrage at the hearing of an abandoned wife whose rights to her husband's property were denied her because of her gender. The program traces Murphy's career from journalist to police magistrate.

The Winners

Forgotten Genius

Length: 27:50 No.: WLK-82-01
Format: video

The story of Reginald Fessenden, a scientist and inventor from Quebec who set out to prove "signals and voices could fly through the air" and who, on accomplishing this, invented the radio. The drama chronicles the events leading up to a 20-year court battle waged by Fessenden against a company claiming rights to the invention.

The Winners

H.R. MacMillan

Length: 24:14 No.: WLK-82-06
Format: video

This drama traces the career of H.R. MacMillan, a farm boy from the east who founded one of the world's largest lumber companies, MacMillan Bloedel. From his bold first meeting with Sir Wilfred Laurier to his dogmatic insistence upon reforestation, his great tenacity of character is profiled.

The Winners

J. Armand Bombardier

Length: 23:31 No.: WLK-82-10
Format: video

The invention of the snowmobile by J. Armand Bombardier in Valcourt, Quebec. Though he could not perfect his invention in time to fetch medical assistance to save the life of his small son, Bombardier's dogged persistence and determination eventually led to the realization of a life-long dream.

The Winners

John Wesley Dafoe

Length: 23:38 No.: WLK-82-07

Format: video

This drama chronicles the rise to success of John Wesley Dafoe, a self-made man who left teaching to become the editor of the Winnipeg Free Press. Detailed are his early experiences as a junior reporter where his integrity and sense of justice moulded his journalistic style.

The Winners

Pauline Johnson

Length: 24:14 No.: WLK-82-05

Format: video

The struggle of Pauline Johnson, half Englishwoman and half Mohawk princess, to quell the tides of racial prejudice through the medium of her poetry.

The Winners

Père Murray

Length: 24:38 No.: WLK-82-04

Format: video

Awards: American Film Festival,
United States: Honorable Mention

This is the story of Père Murray, unconventional priest and founder of Saskatchewan's Notre Dame College. "With Struggle and Come Through" as his motto — and in the course of an often humorous battle with financial woes — he attracted teachers and students from all over North America to a college that still stands.

Law

Lawyers

In eight hour-long programs,

Lawyers provides viewers with an intimate look at Canada's legal system including — for the first time in Canada — footage of an entire murder trial. Inspired by Jack Batten's book of the same title, Lawyers goes behind closed doors to reveal some of the mysteries of the legal profession. A teacher's guide is available for the Lawyers series. Written by Ray Trott and Helmut Manzl of the Halton Board of Education, the guide includes questions and activities for high-school students at basic, general and advanced levels. Directions and guidelines for teachers are provided.

Prices:

Package of 8 videocassettes:

1/2" $700; 3/4" $1,100

Order package no.: Y8J-84-00

Individual programs:

1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

See individual titles for order numbers.

Lawyers

And You Shall Be Heard:

Regina v. Clow, Part 1

Length: 56:50 No.: Y8J-84-01

Format: video

The trial of a 30-year-old woman accused of murder provides an unprecedented examination of Canadian criminal law practice. With permission of the court, cameras record every step in the proceedings — including the trial in a Kingston, Ontario courtroom.

Lawyers

And You Shall Be Heard:

Regina v. Clow, Part 2

Length: 56:50 No.: Y8J-84-02

Format: video

The mother of two stands trial as cameras witness the proceedings from a specially constructed facility. Decorum — not theatrics — sets the tone in court as tension mounts. On the witness stand, the defendant breaks down while recalling the murder. After the jury reaches a verdict, the judge passes sentence. But there is an appeal — with dramatic results.

Lawyers

Call to the Bar

Length: 56:50 No.: Y8J-84-03

Format: video

In an overview of Canada's legal system, British author (Rumpole of the Bailey) and barrister John Mortimer visits English legal landmarks and analyzes the significance of England's common law, which is the basis for Canada's common law in all provinces except Quebec, where civil law prevails. The program follows a Dalhousie Law School student from her graduation to her call to the bar. In Quebec, the only lawyer in a small town handles a variety of cases, and that province's civil law practices are illustrated.

Lawyers

Different Practices

Length: 56:50 No.: Y8J-84-04

Format: video

There are some 40,000 lawyers and legal specialists in Canada. Practitioners discuss positive and negative aspects of their profession. Some lawyers share their ambitions and dreams, while others express their disappointment and disillusionment.

Lawyers

The Invisible Law

Length: 56:50 No.: Y8J-84-05

Format: video

Canadians are regulated by some 650 legal tribunals, boards and commissions, and there are roughly half-a-million ways of breaking Canadian laws. Administrative lawyers represent clients before the Immigration Appeal Board, provincial workers' compensation boards and a municipal committee of adjustment.

Lawyers

Stewards of Justice

Length: 56:50 No.: Y8J-84-06

Format: video

Cameras follow a circuit court judge through Canada's Northwest Territories as he dispenses justice to the country's native peoples. Footage includes a look at the history of the legal system in the North, as well as a rare view of the Supreme Court of Canada in session.

Lawyers

Three-Piece Suits

Length: 56:50 No.: Y8J-84-07

Format: video

Over a ten-month period in Canada and West Germany, corporate lawyers — princes of the legal profession — negotiate a multi-million-dollar real estate transaction. Cameras record the subtleties and tensions of the bargaining process.

Lawyers

'Til Death Do Us Part

Length: 56:50 No.: Y8J-84-08

Format: video

In Canada, one out of three marriages ends in divorce. This program shows individuals embroiled in legal entanglements and emotional turmoil. Family law practitioners offer advice to clients, and plan their strategies before court hearings.

• The Lifer and the Lady

Length: 86:20 No.: YAR-84-01

Format: video

Awards: American Film Festival,

United States: First Prize

Chicago International Film

Festival, United States:

Award of Merit

This gripping, real-life drama focuses on a jailed murderer, his fight for parole and his relationship with a middle-class mother of two. Cameras follow habitual criminal Ron Cooney for a year as he battles for — and subsequently wins — parole. Volunteer worker Lesley Earle shares revealing moments with Cooney during her Kingston prison visits, and later attempts to help him adjust to the "straight" life. (There are two other programs in this CBC Prison Trilogy: Lifers in the Man Alive series and Prison Mother, Prison Daughter. See Sociology.)

Price: 1/2" $218; 3/4" $320

Man Alive

A unique award-winning series, Man Alive goes behind the headlines to look at controversial moral issues and the pain and triumph behind current events. The series has won wide praise for its sensitive treatment of a diverse range of complex issues.

Man Alive

Strangers At Our Door

Length: 27:00 No.: Y8L-88-13

Format: video

They came to Canada looking for refuge, hoping to find shelter from persecution, terror and death in their homelands. Tough new laws confront new immigrants. Meanwhile 85,000 refugee claimants have been waiting for years to find out if they will be deported or if they will be allowed to stay in Canada. Man Alive looks at how Canadians treat them.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

• Rough Justice

Length: 60:00 No.: Y8R-89-07

Format: video

In this current affairs program from CBC Ottawa, Ian Parker investigates the criminal justice system. Does it work for or against the rights of the individual?

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Media Literacy

Inside the Box

Inside the Box, a series of theme packages for the development of media-literacy skills, will create an awareness and understanding of television. Each video/guide package will foster your students' critical-viewing skills by focusing on six important themes.

Especially useful for English and Media Studies, Inside the Box crosses the curriculum with its original programming from CBC and extensive, teacher-written study guides. The eight-hour package is an effective and invaluable resource for any learning environment.

Prices:

Package of 6 videocassettes:

1/2" $3,000; 3/4" $3,600

Order package no.: Y9A-89-00

Individual programs:

See individual titles for prices and order numbers.

Please note: To facilitate the implementation of this project, clients may purchase extra guides.

Prices: $25 each or $115 set of six

Inside the Box

Children's Television

Length: 120:00 No.: Y9A-89-03

Format: video

The elements and creative forces that make good children's television are investigated as students are introduced to such key issues as role modelling and child psychology. The compilation of successful children's programs includes: Sesame Street, Mr. Dressup, Fred Penner's Place, Wonderstruck, What's New?, Under the Umbrella Tree and Degrassi Junior High.

Price: 1/2" $750; 3/4" $840

Inside the Box

Television and the Consumer

Length: 30:00 No.: Y9A-89-05

Format: video

What are the positive and negative effects of television on consumers' buying habits? The importance of ratings, advertising, promotion, consumer awareness and other issues are examined as students look critically at the commercial nature of television. Temples of Mammon, a dramatic and provocative production from Man Alive serves as the focal point in its examination of the phenomenon of the shopping mall.

Price: 1/2" $85; 3/4" $155

Inside the Box

Television as an Artistic Medium

Length: 60:00 No.: Y9A-89-06

Format: video

To create an awareness of the creative potential of television, this video focuses on Degas, a work by the acclaimed filmmaker Harry Rasky. The teaching guide focuses on the involvement of the filmmaker and film crew to examine the sociological implications of television, to recognize the role of television as educator and to increase students' ability to recognize and choose quality programming.

Price: 1/2" $385; 3/4" $425

Inside the Box

The Television Documentary

Length: 150:00 No.: Y9A-89-01

Format: video

Features the distinctive styles of three acclaimed documentaries: Just Another Missing Kid, The Fifth Estate's Academy Award-winning story of a mother's search for her son; Life After Death: Ethiopia (The Journal) which examines the effects of one of history's most serious famines, and Face Value, an intriguing examination of non-verbal communication from The Nature of Things.

Price: 1/2" $835; 3/4" $1,035

Inside the Box

Television Drama

Length: 150:00 No.: Y9A-89-04

Format: video

The Squamish Five, a docudrama based on actual events, tells the story of a naive girl-next-door turned urban guerilla. Students examine the video on three levels: as a drama itself, as a process involving producers and writers and as a vehicle for exploring related issues.

Price: 1/2" $800; 3/4" $1,000

Inside the Box

Television News

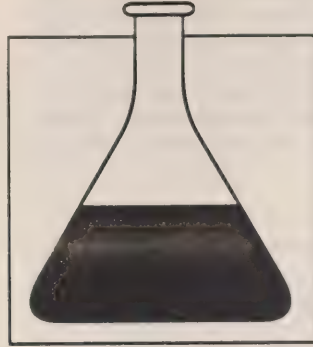

Length: 90:00 No.: Y9A-89-02

Format: video

Students are invited to follow the critical editing process of The National and the CBC news team. The decision-making process is examined as the day's most important events are selected and debated. Aimed at clarifying the news-gathering process, an in-house production titled Broadcast News: The Video is featured. In addition, actual news reports of historic events will be presented.

Price: 1/2" $595; 3/4" $685

Medicine Health

The Fifth Estate

The Fifth Estate has garnered some 50 national and international awards for its dedicated, investigative journalism. Unquestionably, The Fifth Estate has set and maintained its own high standards of excellence.

The Fifth Estate

A Stitch In Time

Length: 13:54 No.: Y8G-85-07
Format: video

The Shouldice Hospital is world famous for its successful hernia surgery and its policy of getting patients back on their feet within hours — rather than the typical weeks — of a hernia operation. The Fifth Estate visits Shouldice Hospital in its country-club setting north of Toronto, and follows a patient from arrival to departure, through two operations in which the Shouldice technique of repairing torn muscles with stainless steel is demonstrated. Thousands of patients from around the world, especially the U.S., come to the Shouldice Hospital, and reunite at the hospital's annual reunion and check-up.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Fifth Estate

I'll Get There Somehow

Length: 86:50 No.: Y8R-84-02
Format: video

Three-and-a-half-million Canadians suffer from arthritis, the leadingcripler of children as well as the elderly. Four women — ranging from a teenager to a senior citizen — courageously battle often debilitating pain trying to live with arthritis.

Price: 1/2" $218; 3/4" $320

The Fifth Estate

No Known Cure

Length: 31:07 No.: Y86-86-19
Format: video

Alzheimer's, suffered by about 300,000 Canadians, is one of the most widely feared diseases of the century. First mistaken as a malady limited to the aged, it is finally being recognized as a fatal illness of the brain. The Fifth Estate focuses on three unfortunate victims and their families whose lives have been turned upside down by this demoralizing illness.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Journal

The mandate of this in-depth current affairs program is to provide perspective, insight and analysis. The Journal uses interviews, documentary segments and on-location probing to dig deep into issues that range from news to the environment, health and the arts.

The Journal

AIDS and the Future

Length: 31:00 No.: Y8H-87-03
Format: video

The great epidemics, from the Black Death, syphilis, tuberculosis to AIDS, have traditionally tested our society. Throughout history, the afflicted have been shunned, quarantined, or regarded as scapegoats for the ills of the world. This disturbing segment of The Journal examines historical attitudes to disease and the diseased to reveal the terrible effects AIDS has had on society as well as its victims. AIDS sufferers are being barred from schools and the work place; sex education for young people is being taught in the context of an incurable disease, and our civil rights are being threatened by the spectre of compulsory testing.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Journal

The Hidden Healers

Length: 29:02 No.: Y8H-87-02
Format: video

They are the eyes of the operating theatre, the ears of the general ward and the heart of the emergency room. And yet, nurses, the hidden healers, continue to fight an image of being mere helpmates to doctors who enjoy all the glamor and technology the medical profession can offer. Nurses must cope with continual equipment shortages, patients with unknown names, long and ever-changing shifts and lack of recognition from the doctors. The Journal visits Montreal's Royal Victoria Hospital and illustrates how doctors may hold the scalpel, but it's the nurses who are in charge — whether in the emergency room, the operating room, the cardiac ward or with chronic-care geriatric patients.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Journal

The Office: Is It Making You Sick?

Length: 65:52 No.: Y8H-85-08
Format: video

The energy crisis of the early 1970s brought an unexpected side effect: the Sick Building Syndrome. Sealed office buildings often provide inadequate ventilation and cause indoor pollution by recycling smoke, bacteria and other irritants. The Journal explores the problem through a panel discussion and interviews.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Man Alive

A unique award-winning series. Man Alive goes behind the headlines to look at controversial moral issues and the pain and triumph behind current events. The series has won wide praise for its sensitive treatment of a diverse range of complex issues.

Man Alive

An Ordinary Heroine

Length: 27:00 No.: Y8L-88-12
Format: video

Twenty-three years ago a shy young housewife slipped on a candy wrapper and wound up in hospital. Because of that candy wrapper, she lost both legs, one arm and one eye in the subsequent six years. Now she is an award-laden, feisty, tough-minded fighter for the handicapped.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Asylum

Length: 56:04 No.: Y8R-86-08
Format: video

Awards: Chris Bronze Plaque,
Columbus Int'l Film
Festival, 1988

Asylum goes behind the locked doors of B2, the chronic-care ward of Hamilton Psychiatric Hospital. Here patients who have been diagnosed as "chronic failures" remain hidden away from society. Most patients in these back rooms suffer from schizophrenia and seem to have little or no hope of rehabilitation. Many have been there for years; others have nowhere else to go. A frank approach with simple yet unobtrusive camera work combine to present a chilling world of alienation and hopelessness, and a powerful indictment of society.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Man Alive

Call for Help

Length: 27:21 No.: Y8L-87-14
Format: video

There are more than 1,000 calls for help every day in Toronto, Canada's largest city. We take ambulance crew services for granted, but how many of us know what it takes to answer that call for help. Call for Help tells the story of the physical and emotional stress endured by these emergency workers when they answer a call for help from those in distress.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Coping and Caring

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-86-08
Format: video

Alzheimer's disease is a fatal affliction of the brain that causes insidious, relentless loss of memory and other mental dysfunctions. About a third of a million Canadians suffer from it. Coping and Caring relates the experiences of three families stricken by this illness, the effects of which are devastating not only for the victims but also for those family members who must care for them. It's a story of steadfastness of the human spirit, of suffering, courage and love.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Cracking the Shell

Length: 27:33 No.: Y8L-86-01
Format: video

A powerful and searing visit to the previously forbidden territory of the psychiatric institution. Patients and staff inside Hamilton Psychiatric Hospital share with Man Alive their experiences, their struggles with their illness, psychiatry and society. This marks the first time in Canadian television that a documentary film crew has been permitted to film so candidly inside a psychiatric hospital.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

The Dark Side of Hope

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-88-03
Format: video

Don Brill is one of nearly 60,000 Canadians suffering from Parkinson's disease, an incurable brain disorder that eventually causes death. A new operation that may cure this disease has been hailed as a blessing and damned as a curse: it involves the implanting of cells from an aborted fetus into the brain of Parkinson's patients. The controversial fetal-cell implants have embroiled scientists and ethicists in violent confrontation over the ethical and moral right to use fetuses for this purpose.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

The Inner Healer

Length: 27:50 No.: Y8L-84-13
Format: video

An intriguing look at the link between beliefs and feelings. Writer Norman Cousins, cancer specialist Dr. Carl Simonton and Dr. Joel Elkes of Johns Hopkins University share their insights into how human will can be used to trigger biochemical changes in the body, and how this will affect health care in the future.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

My Daddy's Ears are Broken

Length: 30:00 No.: Y8L-89-06
Format: video

Many deaf Canadians were not born that way and as their hearing failed their lives changed dramatically. This program is a moving profile of three people and their stories of isolation, pain, prejudice and triumph.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Out of Madness, People Grow

Length: 27:00 No.: Y8L-86-02
Format: video

The mentally ill are often consigned to isolation and loneliness, which lessens their chances of ever getting well. Man Alive reports on a remarkable self-help movement for psychiatric and ex-psychiatric patients. In this unique new movement, the members help each other recover.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

The Nature of Things

For over 25 years this internationally acclaimed science series has rewarded viewers with vivid explorations into the wonders of nature and technology. The Nature of Things entertains as well as educates with lucid explanations for everything from animal behavior to mechanical operations. Host David Suzuki and the production team show rare dedication and commitment to helping us understand the world in which we live.

The Nature of Things

AIDS — A Report

Length: 47:34 No.: WOF-86-17
Format: video

The Nature of Things takes a close-up look at AIDS, the fatal disease that attacks the immune system. This documentary focuses on the various aspects of the AIDS virus, from its origins and history to the psychosocial impact it has on its victims and society. Interviews are conducted with leading scientists and doctors, and a visit to the Whitman Walker Clinic in Washington, D.C., reveals how a community-based facility has managed to be a model of care and efficiency for victims of sexually transmitted diseases. This program is also available in French.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Anatomy of Eloquence

Length: 30:00 No.: WOF-87-11
Format: video

Over the last decade, anatomists and linguists have come to a new recognition of precisely how the human vocal tract is adapted for the production of speech sounds. Examining the physiology of speech production, the program focuses on individuals learning to speak after their larynxes have been surgically removed, and visits the Denver Speech Research Centre, where the science of speech production is applied to the practical problems of professional voice users, such as actors.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

A Pretence of Performance

Length: 46:13 No.: WOF-89-14
Format: video

Today the stakes are high when it comes to winning. Athletes also know there is a choice to be made: play fair or take drugs and risk health and reputation. When role models such as top athletes take drugs to get ahead, it's not long before the next generation wants them. David Suzuki examines this controversial issue.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Blood of Our Children

Length: 23:32 No.: WOF-86-04

Format: video

The grandmothers continue to march around the plazas of Argentina protesting the disappearance of their children and grandchildren into prisons or unmarked graves. The persistence and courage of these groups of bereaved women has prompted help from American geneticists and forensic scientists in identifying the bones of their children and proving the identity of their stolen grandchildren. Now that Argentina has a democratically elected government, some of the tragic mysteries of a decade of military oppression and tyranny may be solved.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Children Who Learned to Listen

Length: 47:04 No.: WOF-87-08

Format: video

In this fascinating documentary on audio-visual communication, a revolutionary method of teaching hearing-impaired children how to "listen," The Nature of Things looks back to a program aired 12 years ago on the training of deaf children. It updates the story by showing how this method, along with high-powered hearing aids, has allowed these children to use their small amount of residual hearing to eventually speak. Experts' opinions and footage of teaching sessions explain how this system has enabled children to communicate verbally in a hearing society.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Coming to Grips with the Grippe

Length: 46:08 No.: WOF-89-04

Format: video

Coming to Grips with the Grippe

examines influenza, a highly infectious virus that can still be fatal. An affliction since ancient times, flu epidemics in 1918, 1946 and 1957 caused deaths around the world. Vaccines are still hampered by the adaptability of the virus. Research has spread to animal habitats where scientists have discovered an amazing link to ducks in China, the birthplace of pandemics.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Doctors of Tomorrow

Length: 27:48 No.: WOF-85-06

Format: video

The dizzy acceleration in medical advances has changed the way doctors must be trained. What tomorrow's doctors need most is not knowledge itself, but the skills to keep up with change and the ability to seek out essential information. McMaster University is training its medical students to keep up with change, and the program is receiving international attention and acclaim.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Face Value

Length: 38:38 No.: WOF-88-07

Format: video

In the course of a lifetime each one of us identifies and memorizes thousands of faces. Each face is the central key to individuality, and is an important medium of communication. But how accurately do faces convey personality and communicate thoughts and feelings? Do faces lie? Face Value documents the work of psychologist Paul Ekman, who has demonstrated that certain human facial expressions are universal. His system of measuring movements of facial muscles provides the foundation for analyzing truth and deception in the face.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Hearing Things

Length: 50:27 No.: WOF-85-11

Format: video

Modern technology provides new ways to improve hearing, but creates its own range of threats to our ability to hear. Hearing Things examines the physiology of hearing and new treatments for deafness, and explains the crucial role of hearing in the socialization process.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

I Never Planned On This

Length: 46:30 No.: WOF-88-16

Format: video

The way a person ages is influenced by a complex interplay of genetic, environmental and social factors.

This program looks at some of the myths and facts about this stage of life.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Kidney Stones

Length: 10:50 No.: WOF-86-04

Format: video

The kidneys cleanse the blood of its poisons and discharge them as urine. In some people various elements in the urine crystallize as hard masses: kidney stones. Now a new procedure is rapidly replacing conventional surgery: the use of ultrasonic sound to break kidney stones apart. This treatment is, some say, the most significant advance in urology in two decades and promises to make the surgeon's knife a remedy of the past.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Knowing Nose

Length: 47:20 No.: WOF-88-01

Format: video

From insects to primates, the sense of smell is a major channel of information and communication. Moths find their mates, salmon find their way, vultures find their food and most mammals know their young — by smell. New research into olfaction suggests that we too are led by the nose to a far greater degree than we realize. Differences in the ability to smell are a major subject of research, and The Knowing Nose looks at current studies on animals and humans, the chemistry of odors and the manufacture of fragrances for the perfume industry.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Muscle Fibre

Length: 21:38 No.: WOF-85-03

Format: video

There are three types of mammalian muscle, and the ratios with which different species and individuals are endowed determines the kind of athletic performance at which they are most likely to excel. Howard Green of the University of Waterloo compares the physiology of muscle types in various athletes from weightlifters to sprinters.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Neem Tree: A Natural Insecticide

Length: 11:58 No.: WOF-83-04
Format: video

For generations, India's Neem tree has been regarded as a kind of village doctor because of its unlimited healing powers. Properties found in twigs, leaves and seeds help prevent tooth decay, inhibit fungus on skin, heal abrasions and kill bacteria. Crushed seeds from the Neem tree are commonly used as an insect repellent, a factor that is increasingly being noticed by other countries. This natural repellent is not only harmless to animals, but it improves land leached by erosion, and grows where little else can survive. An inexpensive alternative to chemical poisons, Neem may be the answer to balancing global food loss and environmental destruction.
Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

New Backs for Old (Update)

Length: 30:00 No.: WOF-88-12
Format: video

This program examines the sources of back pain and the range of treatment available today — everything from tai chi and posture correction to acupuncture, chiropractic and orthopaedic surgery.
Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Pains of Performance

Length: 23:55 No.: WOF-88-13
Format: video

Focusing on medical treatment designed specifically to help performing artists, The Nature of Things travels to clinics where musicians and dancers are receiving specialized treatments for performance ailments. The relationships between sports and arts medicine are examined.
Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Powerful Medicine

Length: 47:14 No.: WOF-86-06
Format: video

Many of our modern medicines were first used in their plant form: aspirin made from an extract of willow bark; digitalis, the gift of the common foxglove to millions of cardiac sufferers. Medical researchers are currently taking a new look at many traditional herbal remedies to see whether they work, and how. Every human society has used plants to cure disease and to maintain good health. The therapeutic potential of plants makes the declining number of plant species around the world a medical as well as an environmental concern.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Spas: Magic or Medicine?

Length: 60:00 No.: WOF-83-03
Format: video

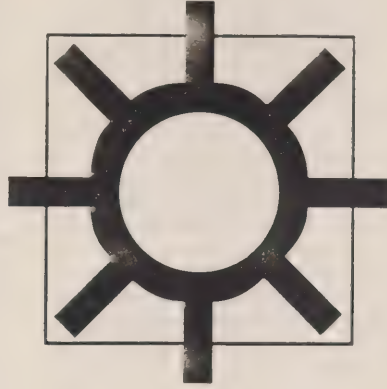

Thousands of people have made pilgrimages to Dax, France to soak themselves in the special Dax mud. This popular therapy for degenerative rheumatism is over 2,000 years old. Heated underground by volcanic action, hot spring water is rich in vital trace elements and minerals, and possesses mysterious curative powers which modern science is only now beginning to understand.
Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Vision of the Blind

Length: 47:00 No.: WOF-88-14
Format: video

Contrary to popular myth, the remaining senses of the blind are no sharper than those of sighted people. They are simply used more intensely as this program illustrates. At the University of Toronto, psychologist John Kennedy studies "blind art," the ability of blind people to create and interpret visual images, inventing visual metaphors of motion and perspective similar to those of sighted people.
Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Native and Northern Studies

• Dreamspeaker

Length: 75:11 No.: WKJ-76-03

Format: video

The value and morality of conventional treatment of emotionally disturbed children is questioned in this sensitive story of a boy who escapes from an institution. "Adopted" by an old Indian shaman, the boy discovers he is capable of learning and begins to counteract his violence and fear.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Fifth Estate

The Fifth Estate has garnered some 50 national and international awards for its dedicated, investigative journalism. Unquestionably, The Fifth Estate has set and maintained its own high standards of excellence.

The Fifth Estate

The Arctic Exiles

Length: 14:20 No.: Y8G-89-02

Format: video

Members of an Inuit band living in Grise Fjord in the high Arctic return to their ancestral home on Hudson's Bay after an absence of 30 years. Although their return was promised when they were taken to Grise Fjord as part of a government experiment, the members of the band make their own way home.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Focus North

Programs from CBC Yellowknife's current affairs series present universal issues from a northern perspective. Hosted by Paul Andrews, the programs explore current themes and provide visual images of Canada's far North.

Focus North

Audrey McLaughlin:

A Leadership Convention

Length: 28:50 No.: Y9B-89-02

Format: video

Three years before becoming the first woman and the first northerner to lead a major national political party, NDP leader Audrey McLaughlin had never been elected to public office. With her election she promises to bring a northern perspective to national affairs and northern issues to the national agenda. This retrospective on the 1989-1990 leadership race depicts this important step in the Canadian political process and reveals a new view of Canada. (On the same program: How the new Goods and Services tax will affect the northern economy.)

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Focus North

Dene Priests

Length: 29:20 No.: Y9B-89-05

Format: video

Many native people have answered the call to join the Catholic Church, but few have answered the call to join the priesthood at a time when there is a shortage of priests, especially in the North. This program looks at the relationship between the Dogrib people, their church and the priesthood. (On the same program: singer / songwriter David Gon, who lives in Rae, is concerned about native children growing up in an English-speaking world and losing their native language.)

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Focus North

The Keewatin Controversy

Length: 28:50 No.: Y9B-89-04

Format: video

A West German company wants to open Kiggavig, the first modern uranium mine in northern Canada. Many people in the region see the mine as a threat to the environment and their way of life. The company sees the mine as an opportunity for badly needed jobs and money in the region.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Focus North

Oujebougamou

Length: 28:50 No.: Y9B-89-01

Format: video

The program recounts the story of the Oujebougamou Cree of Northern Quebec and the hardships they have had to face in relocating their community seven times in the past 50 years. Being pushed aside so often because of mining and logging companies, the Oujebougamou's sense of community has been badly damaged. They are just beginning to get it back through political action and religious faith. (On the same program: The National Energy Board has approved the export of natural gas from the McKenzie Delta. On The Northern Muse Judge De Werdt narrates the story of Angitaurik, an old man who forced three younger men to help him commit suicide.)

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Focus North

Pulp Mills

Length: 28:50 No.: Y9B-89-03

Format: video

People in the Northwest Territories fear a proposal by southern and foreign companies to build a series of pulp mills in northern Alberta on the north-flowing Athabaskan river system. The program explores the environmental issues and shows the pulp and paper process. (On the same program: Bear Stories, three men talk about their encounters with bears.)

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• The Great Spirit

Length: 27:50 No.: Y8L-74-02

Format: video

A rare glimpse of the sacred places, rituals and ceremonies of Canada's native people as they rediscover their ancient religious heritage and renew their sense of Indian identity.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Grey Owl

Length: 56:49 No.: X4J-72-04

Format: video

An account of the major events of the turbulent life of Grey Owl, an Englishman who claimed he was a Canadian Indian. It was not until his death at age 50 that Grey Owl's true identity was revealed, and history has yet to decide whether he was a glory-seeking imposter, or a great pioneer naturalist and forerunner of many contemporary attitudes toward environmental preservation.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• The Land God Gave to Kane

Length: 56:33 No.: X4J-70-04
Format: video

The oils and sketches of Toronto artist Paul Kane (1810-1871), recorded how Canadian Indians lived over a century ago. This program explores his study of art in Italy and his three-year journey across Canada when he lived with native people and studied and painted them. Included are re-enactments of highlights of his journey, readings from his diary and interviews with several native people about their former ways of life, as well as contemporary life on a reserve, on Manitoulin Island.
Price: 1/2" $225; 3/4" $250

• The Magnificent Gift

Length: 56:50 No.: X4J-70-01
Format: video

Indian Chief Dan George introduces the exciting history of Canada's fur trade. Dramatized episodes interspersed with maps and documents chronicle the 300-year saga of the fur trade, including the development of the Hudson's Bay Company, a major influence in the growth of the Canadian West.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Man Alive

A unique award-winning series, Man Alive goes behind the headlines to look at controversial moral issues and the pain and triumph behind current events. The series has won wide praise for its sensitive treatment of a diverse range of complex issues.

Man Alive

A Circle of Healing

Part 1: Breaking the Silence

Part 2: When the Eagle Lands on the Moon

Length: 54:00 No.: Y8L-88-11
Format: video

In this powerful documentary Man Alive returns to Alkali Lake, the extraordinary Indian reserve that has overcome alcoholism. Now the community is struggling with an ugly secret hidden for generations under the alcoholic haze — child abuse. This explosive two-part documentary follows the process of family healing and reconciliation in this courageous community. (See also The Spirit That Moves under Native and Northern Studies.)

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Denotes single program

Man Alive

The Warrior from Within

Length: 30:00 No.: Y8L-89-03
Format: video

Douglas Cardinal is one of Canada's most celebrated architects and his latest creation, the National Museum of Civilization, is a triumph. For Cardinal, a Métis from Alberta's backwoods, the success caps a remarkable personal journey.

Through the years of struggle against racism, financial ruin and professional controversy, Cardinal found strength within his own native faith.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

The Nature of Things

For over 25 years this internationally acclaimed science series has rewarded viewers with vivid explorations into the wonders of nature and technology. The Nature of Things entertains as well as educates with lucid explanations for everything from animal behavior to mechanical operations. Host David Suzuki and the production team show rare dedication and commitment to helping us understand the world in which we live.

The Nature of Things

Arctic Islands: A Matter of Time

Length: 56:43 No.: WOF-75-04
Format: video

Nearly a thousand islands north of the 60th parallel are considered to be biologically special and in need of protection. Viewers visit a land rich with life, dappled with oases — sustenance for birds and mammals of all kinds, whose migration and breeding cycles are intimately linked with the Far North.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Ellesmere Island

Length: 27:50 No.: WOF-73-02
Format: video

Flora and fauna abound in Canada's high Arctic, but oil-drilling rigs permeate the eerie Arctic silence with thunderous noises.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Temagami: The Last Stand

Length: 47:00 No.: WOF-89-16
Format: video

Two hundred years ago, the entire north-east of our continent was blanketed by ancient forest. Today, vestiges of that once mighty forest are at the centre of a bitter conflict. The town of Temagami in northern Ontario has been a focal point for the controversy as the timber industry, environmentalists, the government and native people clash over the fate of the last stands of old pines. This program investigates key and difficult issues relating to land use and natural resources.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• One Northern Summer: The Incredible Upstream Struggle

Length: 24:02 No.: YUG-71-05
Format: video

In a once-in-a-lifetime attempt to return to their home streams to spawn, sockeye salmon may migrate as far as 1,500 km past the hazards of high waterfalls and Alaskan brown bears. Viewers watch as the fish struggle up the McNeil River, one of the world's largest salmon runs.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• One Northern Summer: Island of Seals

Length: 24:02 No.: YUG-71-06
Format: video

On the isolated Pribiloff Islands is found the world's largest concentration of northern fur seals — roughly 1.5 million. However, while some 400,000 seal pups are born to the herd each year, a newborn seal is fortunate if it survives the first 20 minutes of its life due to overcrowding.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• One Northern Summer: The Polar Bear Capital of the World

Length: 24:02 No.: YUG-71-08
Format: video

Locals have nicknamed Churchill, Manitoba, the "Polar Bear Capital of the World" because at any given time 20 to 30 of these huge bears can be found digging in the town dump. The program delves into this unique situation and the attempts to mitigate it, and shows how residents have learned to live with the phenomenon.
Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Pauline Johnson

Length: 24:14 No.: WLK-82-05
Format: video

The struggle of Pauline Johnson, half-English woman and half-Mohawk princess, to quell the tides of racial prejudice through the medium of her poetry.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Riel

Length: 150:00 No.: WLF-79-06
Format: video

In 1868, Sir John A. Macdonald's dream of a nation stretching from sea to sea threatens the livelihood of the Métis, the half-French, half-Indian hunters of the prairies. Assuming their leadership is the 24-year-old, Montreal-educated Louis Riel. A peaceful solution seems imminent until Riel's provisional government tries and executes a Canadian for treason, sparking a chain of events that leads to the bloody Northwest Rebellion of 1885.

Price: 1/2" $405; 3/4" $450

• The Shadow and the Spirit

Length: 60:00 No.: X4K-80-01
Format: video

Filmed from the Columbia River to the Gulf of Alaska along the British Columbia coastline, this documentary employs extensive historical reconstruction to re-create the many unique cultures that developed among these islands and inlets centuries ago.

The strikingly original art forms that evolved are considered to be some of the finest examples of native art and hang in museums and galleries around the world. After near extinction in the early part of this century, native carvings and paintings are enjoying a spectacular renaissance. One of the leaders of this revival is contemporary Indian carver, Joe David, whose works are featured in this program.

Price: 1/2" $225; 3/4" $250

• Spirit in a Landscape:
The People Beyond

Length: 56:50 No.: X4B-74-03
Format: video

The Inuit of the Canadian Arctic are profiled at work and at play.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Spirit Speaking Through

Length: 57:18 No.: X4K-81-01
Format: video

Awards: Anik Award, Canada: Best Documentary
Golden Harp Festival of TV
Folklore Programming,
Ireland: Bronze Harp

Filmed on location, this program introduces seven native artists who form part of a Canadian art phenomenon, the 25-year-old school of Woodland Art. Primarily self-taught, these artists defied native taboos against depicting private spiritual rituals in their work.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• The Spirit That Moves

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-87-05
Format: video

A moving documentary that focuses on the remarkable story of the native inhabitants of Alkali Lake in B.C. Sixteen years ago, every man, woman and child over 10 years old was an alcoholic. The death rate was four times the national average and the native culture was being destroyed. Now the band has practically eradicated alcohol from the community and has even made a film, titled The Honour of All, that has helped native peoples across North America to battle the scourge of alcohol. Excerpts from this film reveal how the population uses traditional ceremonies and the guidance of band elders to ensure a healthy, constructive future for Alkali Lake.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

• This Land: North Slope

Length: 27:50 No.: WOL-81-02
Format: video

In the northwest corner of Canada, the people of the Beaufort Sea survive in a spare environment. The Innuvialuit — nomads of the western Arctic — live off the land, but are adapting to the growing industrial development of the area.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• The Whitecomers:
The Promised Land

Length: 57:08 No.: X4B-73-01
Format: video

The events and personalities that shaped the prairie provinces. Fur traders come west; Louis Riel leads an uprising of Indians and Métis; thousands of immigrants struggle for existence in a harsh environment.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Wilderness Under Siege

Length: 47:50 No.: WOF-86-16
Format: video

Wilderness Under Siege documents the continuing battle to preserve our priceless natural heritage by examining two endangered regions. Polar Bear Pass on Bathurst Island, a delicate oasis of life in a harsh environment, was finally protected as a national wildlife sanctuary in 1986 after years of pressure on Ottawa by scientists and public interest groups. The future of Windy Bay, a magnificent rainforest area in the Queen Charlotte Islands, still hangs in the balance after more than a decade of debate.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Natural Sciences

The Fifth Estate

The Fifth Estate has garnered some 50 national and international awards for its dedicated, investigative journalism. Unquestionably, The Fifth Estate has set and maintained its own high standards of excellence.

The Fifth Estate

Grizzlies in the Mist

Length: 15:39 No.: Y8G-89-03

Format: video

The Kutzeymateen Valley in British Columbia is one of the few places where grizzly bears still thrive. Environmentalists want the Kutzeymateen to become Canada's first grizzly bear sanctuary, but loggers want the trees for lumber.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

The Nature of Things

For over 25 years this internationally acclaimed science series has rewarded viewers with vivid explorations into the wonders of nature and technology. The Nature of Things entertains as well as educates with lucid explanations for everything from animal behavior to mechanical operations. Host David Suzuki and the production team show rare dedication and commitment to helping us understand the world in which we live.

The Nature of Things

The Balancing Act

Length: 46:16 No.: WOF-89-03

Format: video

Shaped by the earth's gravitational field and refined by evolution, the human balancing act is a wonder of nature. The Nature of Things examines the highly adaptable human system of balance, and the special challenges of athletics, dance, flight and space travel. The camera focuses on the microscopic vestibular system of the inner ear which tells us exactly how we are standing and whether we are moving, as well as the speed and direction of our movements.

Price: 1/2" 109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Bats: Piercing the Dark

Length: 27:17 No.: WOF-88-04

Format: video

Able to consume up to half its own body weight in insects in one evening, and superbly adapted for flight, the amazing bat has inhabited the earth for over 60 million years and numbers over 80 species. The Nature of Things joins a team of mammalogists and artists as they journey beneath the jungle in central Jamaica to study a cavern inhabited by a colony of more than a half-million bats from 17 different countries. Bat expert Brock Fenton tries to replace fear with fascination for this much-maligned creature.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Bird Hospital

Length: 12:00 No.: WOF-88-06

Format: video

The Jains of India are members of a Hindu sect that teaches that all life is sacred. This belief has created a most unusual hospital — the Charity Bird Hospital in Delhi, where more than 15,000 sick and injured birds are treated at a time. Birds too damaged by the hazards of city life to survive in freedom are given a permanent refuge, and more than 12,000 of them have settled in for life.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Borne on the Wind

Length: 28:40 No.: WOF-87-03

Format: video

With superb photographic techniques, this segment of The Nature of Things witnesses a year in the life of a pair of bald eagles in the Gulf Islands in British Columbia. It traces the history of human contact with these magnificent birds, focusing particularly on the work of naturalist Charles Broley, who helped save the eagles from extinction.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Breathing Sea

Length: 25:45 No.: WOF-85-16

Format: video

A look at plankton — the basis of most life on earth. Phytoplankton, microscopic plants, are crucial to all life in the water and on land by creating most of the world's oxygen through photosynthesis. In the sea, plankton are the critical element of the food chain that links the smallest fish to the great whales.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Burgess Shale

Length: 16:45 No.: WOF-85-09

Format: video

The fossils of the Burgess Shale, discovered in Yoho National Park in British Columbia speak volumes about our planet's past. This program investigates an amazing array of swimming and crawling creatures that lived a half billion years ago in what later became British Columbia. The Burgess Shale fossils are also the only known fossils to show details of both soft and hard body parts, and have provided a natural blueprint for detailed scientific study.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Cheese

Length: 22:36 No.: WOF-85-16

Format: video

More than 2,000 varieties have developed from only 20 basic types of cheese. They all start with milk. The Nature of Things shows how it's the combination of bacteria, enzymes and aging that produce the subtle differences prized by cheese lovers. The making of Quebec's famous Oka cheese is featured.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Dinosaurs: Remains to be Seen

Length: 58:20 No.: WOF-84-09

Format: video

The abrupt and mysterious extinction of dinosaurs has always been a source of great scientific curiosity. Bones and microscopic grains of pollen are the main clues paleontologists use to reconstruct the life of these giants that walked the earth 60 million years ago. Artist Eleanor Kish creates lively and accurate portraits of life as the dinosaurs knew it.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Ducks in Danger

Length: 50:33 No.: WOF-85-07

Format: video

Awards: Banff Television Festival, Canada: Best Outdoors and Wildlife Documentary
Wildscreen '86, Britain:
Bristol and West Building
Society Conservation Award

An alarming decline in North America's duck population is the legacy of growing environmental hazards, too few protective laws and widespread hunting. Ducks in Danger examines the problem and looks at ways to save the ducks.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Falcons by the Sea

Length: 24:20 No.: WOF-89-07

Format: video

On Langara, a small island among B.C.'s Queen Charlotte Islands, scientific researchers are struggling to maintain and protect one of the last refuges of the peregrine falcon, an endangered species. The Canadian Wildlife Service has discovered that rats, introduced to the island by human visitors, are attacking murrelets, the principal prey of the peregrine falcon. The resulting food shortage has greatly reduced the population of peregrines on Langara Island.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Hanuman Langurs: Monkeys of India

Length: 27:50 No.: WOF-81-14

Format: video

Featuring the studies of renowned primatologist Sarah Blaffer-Hrdy, this program details the habits and social customs of the Indian langur, a leaf-eating monkey revered as the descendant of the Hindu deity, Hanuman. The langur's territorial nature is explored in an in-depth look at the specific group hierarchies in which it associates.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

How a Bird Fills the Bill

Length: 20:00 No.: WOF-89-10

Format: video

Each species of seed-eating bird has its own style of choosing and eating its preferred food. Extra-slow-motion film from the biology department at UCLA reveals the special talents of an unusual shorebird called the phalarope.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

How Fish Swim

Length: 28:48 No.: WOF-87-10

Format: video

Tunas cruise over long distances; pike accelerate quickly to catch their prey; reef fish manoeuvre deftly around the jigs and jags of the coral reef. How Fish Swim describes how each of these fish is designed to aid its lifestyle.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Islands at the Edge

Length: 50:24 No.: WOF-85-13

Format: video

Awards: Yorkton Short Film and Video Festival, Canada:
Golden Sheaf Award
(Nature and Environment)

From towering rainforests to bogs and alpine meadows, the Queen Charlotte Islands offer an abundance of wildlife, ecological diversity and cultural heritage. But the area is as commercially valuable as it is ecologically precarious. Whether or not to allow this rich natural resource to be logged will be a test of what society truly values.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Kids Go Wild

Length: 19:12 No.: WOF-86-12

Format: video

The Toronto Island Public and Natural Science School was founded 25 years ago, the first of its kind in North America. Since then, thousands of grade 5 and 6 schoolchildren have enjoyed a week's stay at the school, exploring the world of natural science and learning about the environment. It is a profound experience that will last them a lifetime.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Milkweed

Length: 25:00 No.: WOF-89-08

Format: video

The common milkweed plant is part of a complex living network of interaction and interdependence. Doug Morse of Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island, has been studying the relationships between the milkweed plant and the many different species of insects that visit it throughout the growing season. Milkweed and its insect visitors provide an appropriate system for ecological study because, although varied, its scale is small enough for scientists to observe and begin to understand its multifaceted checks and balances.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Natural Connections

Length: 47:30 No.: WOF-88-03

Format: video

New insights gained from particle physics, astronomy and molecular biology present a dramatically extended view of evolution, which can now be seen as an unbroken progression from the formless, intense energy of the Big Bang 14.5 billion years ago, to the complex patterns of the current ecosystem. The program traces the path from the creation of matter to the formation of the stars and in them the atoms and molecules of life, of genes, of cells and eventually multi-celled creatures like humans.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Niagara Escarpment: A Rock Video

Length: 50:24 No.: WOF-86-03

Format: video

Created millions of years ago, this ancient spine of limestone runs north from Niagara Falls through southern Ontario, up the Bruce Peninsula beyond Manitoulin Island. It's a geographical feature sculpted by water and weather that dominates the landscape and affects the lives of the people in one of Canada's most densely populated areas. The porous limestone that nurtures life also allows toxic wastes to seep from dumps along the Niagara River, poisoning the world's largest body of fresh water. Rich communities of plants, animals and birds thrive in the moist environments of the Bruce Peninsula. This film documents the interaction of water and rock, presenting the two faces of the Escarpment: the beautiful and the dangerous.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Northern Wanderers:

George River Caribou

Length: 23:27 No.: WOF-86-11
Format: video

Across the vast wilderness of Labrador and northern Quebec, hundreds of thousands of caribou move in their annual ancestral journey of migration. But in 1984, 10,000 caribou drowned when the flow of water over their ancient crossing point, Lime-stone Falls, doubled overnight due to the deleterious effects of the James Bay Project. This program examines this tragedy and reveals the fascinating migration pattern of this enduring animal.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Rare Breeds

Length: 30:00 No.: WOF-89-09
Format: video

Wildlife are not the only animals that face extinction. Even farm animals are at risk, especially multi-purpose breeds that are being supplanted by specialized animals, bred for a specific purpose and reared on high-tech farms. But farm animal conservationists see an important role for these hardy generalists in today's diverse economic markets and rapidly changing global environment.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Restless Sky

Length: 27:30 No.: WOF-86-02
Format: video

This journey into the mysterious and elusive world of clouds has shown scientists some facts never before proven. At a speed of up to 7,000 frames per second, the show photographed for the first time, a cloud droplet multiplying a million times to form a single raindrop. With stunning visuals and sound, the program follows the microscopic processes that create rain, ice, lightning, snow and hail, water constantly transforming itself in a continual interchange between our planet and its atmosphere.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Return of the Sea Otter

Length: 27:40 No.: WOF-85-01
Format: video

Awards: Best of Festival Runner-up,
Best Television Runner-up,
International
Wildlife Film Festival

The sea otter brings more than its playful presence to the Pacific coast of North America. It is a key species upon which the entire ecological regime of the coastal waters depends. Hunting decimated sea otter populations early in the century, but contemporary repopulation programs bring hope for ecological rehabilitation.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Roger Tory Peterson:

Portrait of a Birdwatcher
(Update)

Length: 47:00 No.: WOF-88-05
Format: video

Peterson's A Field Guide to the Birds has become the birdwatchers' bible. At 80, he remains a superb naturalist, an outstanding wildlife photographer and an artist whose wildlife paintings have been compared to those of the great Audubon himself. This documentary includes some of his spectacular footage from the Antarctic; Peterson painting plates for a major revision of his field guide; in action in the field; and talking about his love of birds and how it directed his whole life to the cause of conservation.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Rotation

Length: 5:36 No.: WOF-86-02
Format: video

A visually arresting presentation, this short piece examines the principle of rotation, in tops, potters' wheels, dancers' pirouettes and the earth. Catch a Frisbee and you transfer its spin through your body, adding a little to the spin of the earth. Spin disappears from here only to reappear somewhere else.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Sea Raven

Length: 24:18 No.: WOF-86-14
Format: video

The Sea Raven takes viewers to Atlantic Canada for a look at two species of cormorants noted for their remarkable fishing ability and appetites to match. Viewers see how the bird is making a slow recovery from virtual extinction at the turn of the century, and learn how it is now threatened by pollution, gull predation and illegal attacks by fishermen, who blame the cormorant for the depletion of their fish stocks.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Stein Valley

Length: 18:51 No.: WOF-87-14
Format: video

Logging in the Stein Valley is one of the most hotly-contested issues the British Columbia government is facing. While it supports the logging industry, only recently have officials accepted an invitation from native bands to begin negotiations to decide the fate of the Stein Valley.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Stunning Sounds

Length: 47:05 No.: WOF-86-05
Format: video

The ocean is an acoustical world where sound travels much farther than light. Unique footage in this film shows the snapping shrimp using the sound of its huge claw, much the same as the sound made by cracking a knuckle, to stun its prey before grasping it. Filmed in British Columbia, California, Florida and Australia, this show makes the persuasive case that whales use the precious store of spermaceti oil in their heads to focus sound waves into a powerful weapon.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Thoroughbred:A Magic Way of Going

Length: 49:58 No.: WOF-81-02
Format: video

Awards: Eclipse Awards, United States: National TV Achievement Award
Festival de Chantilly, France: Best TV Film

From a small, dog-like creature living in forests, the horse has evolved into the powerful and graceful creature it is today. This program explores the biology, heredity, breeding and training of racehorses around the world.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Tree That Changed the World

Length: 46:11 No.: WOF-89-01
Format: video

It bounces, it stretches, it performs amazing feats that no other material can. Through its application in the auto industry, medicine, engineering and technology, rubber, the botanical wonder that oozes out of a tree, has transformed modern life in just one century.

The Nature of Things visits a research station in Brazil where rubber-tree forests are threatened by leaf blight. In Malaysia, the crew visits large plantations, follows a rubber tapper as he extracts liquid rubber from trees and examines the industrial processing of this valuable resource.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Turning to Dust

Length: 46:12 No.: WOF-89-12
Format: video

The majority of the world's printed heritage is endangered and very few people seem to care. This program is an eye-opening look at what is happening to the millions of books in the world's libraries and private collections. Turning to Dust examines the desperate efforts underway to save our embrittled books.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Vortex

Length: 18:32 No.: WOF-86-09
Format: video

Clouds around the eye of a storm, stardust sucked into a black hole in space, the cream in your coffee. The vortex is one of nature's primary patterns of movement: fluid rotating in a finite space. Migrating birds fly in the vortical currents created by their leaders, saving energy for the long journey. Vortices allow the hummingbird to hover, and give the Condor stability and lift. These complex forms of spiral motion, found everywhere in nature, are the focus of research in many areas of science and technology.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Where There's Smoke

Length: 20:40 No.: WOF-86-14
Format: video

Man has always been fascinated with fire as a source of warmth, beauty and danger. This program looks into the chemistry of fire and describes how the smoke and carbon monoxide that emanate from the flames can be more deadly than the fire itself. Host David Suzuki offers advice on how to prevent fires in the home, and how to survive if fire breaks out.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Wonderstruck Presents

Wonderstruck, Canada's finest science series for kids, hosted by the popular Bob McDonald, presents entertaining and informative science for the classroom. Wonderstruck Presents is a selection of the best of Wonderstruck, organized thematically for school use. Each video is approximately 30 minutes long, and is accompanied by a comprehensive guide, written by an experienced team of teacher/consultants.

Price:

Package of 8 videocassettes:
1/2" $2,000; 3/4" $2,400
Order package no.: YUR-88-00

Individual programs:

1/2" $300; 3/4" $360
See individual titles for order numbers.

Please note: To facilitate the implementation of this project, clients may purchase extra guides.

Prices: $10 each; $48 set

Wonderstruck Presents

Digging Into the Past

Length: 30:00 No.: YUR-88-06
Format: video

Paleontology is the subject of discovery as Wonderstruck looks at Fossils Tyrrell, Lab at Tyrrell, Cat Scan and Crocodile, Gizzard Stones and Chocolate Chip Fossils.

Wonderstruck Presents

Environmental Alert

Length: 30:00 No.: YUR-88-02
Format: video

Students are sensitized to environmental concerns in a program about Oil Pollution, Rainforests, the Greenhouse Effect, Exponential Growth and What We Can Do About Our Planet, a section hosted by The Nature of Things' David Suzuki.

Wonderstruck Presents

The Living Ocean

Length: 30:00 No.: YUR-88-08
Format: video

Wonderstruck travels below the waves to visit Dolphins and Belugas, Coelacanth, Sea Otters, Octopus, Baby Seals and to learn about the Cod-Worm Life Cycle.

Wonderstruck Presents

Making Music

Length: 30:00 No.: YUR-88-01
Format: video

Ideal for teachers of Science or Music. Students are invited to explore the science of sound and music. Subjects include a Glass Orchestra, Gutbucket, Acoustic and Electric Guitars, Resonance and Steel Drums.

Wonderstruck Presents

Mummies and Maya

Length: 30:00 No.: YUR-88-05
Format: video

The fascinating world of archaeology is introduced in programs on Maya, Maya Architecture, Crystal Skull and The Mummies of San Pedro.

Wonderstruck Presents

Space Trek

Length: 30:00 No.: YUR-88-07

Format: video

From the history of the first space-ships to the future of space exploration: Space Planes, Moon Balls, Creating an Alien, UFOs, Sailcraft, Shuttle Compartments, Trip to Mars and Mars' Fossils.

Wonderstruck Presents

Understanding Animals

Length: 30:00 No.: YUR-88-03

Format: video

How well do humans and animals understand each other? Includes Monitor Lizards, Imprinting a Beaver, Polar Bears, Dog Sled Teams, and Monkeys and the Disabled.

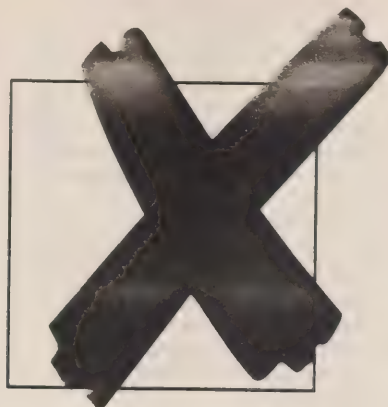

Wonderstruck Presents

Watching Birds

Length: 30:00 No.: YUR-88-04

Format: video

A greater appreciation of feathered creatures is encouraged as students make discoveries about Kestrels, Loons, Hummingbirds, Penguins, Talking Birds and Birds and Buildings.

Politics

• The Canadian Parliamentary Video

Length: 30:00 No.: Y8R-89-01
Format: video

This production is designed to create awareness and understanding of participatory democracy in Canada, and provide a foundation on which to build knowledge of government in this country.

Students are provided with a brief history, then introduced to Canada's peoples, languages and provinces. They then journey to the nation's capital, Ottawa, and into the Canadian House of Commons and Senate where a new session of Parliament is about to begin. The Speaker, the Speech from the Throne, the three major national political parties and the nation's leader, the Prime Minister, are introduced. The camera focuses on the Cabinet, the Opposition, Question Period, the reading of bills and fascinating excerpts from a 1986 debate on capital punishment. Co-produced by the Board of Cooperative Educational Services in New York State, The Canadian Parliamentary Video is also available in French.

Price: 1/2" $292; 3/4" $325;

Please note: To facilitate the implementation of this project, clients may purchase extra guides.

Price: $25 per guide

The Politics of Food

We live in a world of plenty yet millions die of hunger each year because they are unable to grow enough to feed themselves and can't afford to buy food.

The Politics of Food uses case histories to illustrate how the distribution and production of food, which is controlled by political and corporate strategy, more so than famine and drought, is starving people.

The four-part series takes viewers into the homes of starving Brazilians, and the mansions of wealthy Sudanese who feast while their countrymen starve. Each program includes interviews with such "hunger experts" as Frances Moore Lapp of the U.S. Institute for Food and Development Policy, Professor Michael Lipton of the Sussex Institute of Developmental Studies, Susan George of the Institute of Policy

Studies in Washington, D.C., and Margaret Catley-Carlson of the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA). Many of these interviews are damningly juxtaposed with comments from representatives of the World Bank, International Monetary Fund and government and corporate officials.

The Politics of Food examines the causes of hunger in the countries most affected: Africa, Asia and Latin America. It examines the roles of the major food exporting regions and the effects of mounting food surpluses, and looks for signs of possible long-term solutions.

Prices:

Package of 4 videocassettes:

1/2" $360; 3/4" $540

Individual programs:

1/2" $109; 3/4" $160.

See individual titles for order numbers.

The Politics of Food

Program 1: Sudan

Length: 54:22 No.: Y8Z-87-01

Format: video

Sudan was once considered the potential breadbasket of the Arab world. The country abounds with agricultural potential, yet people are starving, a long-term condition caused by poverty, not the weather. The program documents the relentless search for subsistence that the majority of Sudanese must carry on, while merchant farmers become millionaires. The program examines some of the trends in Sudanese agriculture — the shift from cash crops to industrialized farming, which forces small local farmers into bankruptcy and unemployment, as increased agricultural mechanization reduces jobs. Juxtaposition of interviews with a former Sudanese Minister of Commerce and an official from the World Bank exemplify how big business practices and policies have made Sudan vulnerable to famine.

The Politics of Food

Program 2: U.S.A.

Length: 53:16 No.: Y8Z-87-02

Format: video

American multinationals set agricultural policies that in turn set world conditions. This program looks at some of the issues of agriculture in modern America, where farmers are facing a financial crisis at least as severe as the 1930s Depression. In the U.S., agricultural success has produced huge surpluses, driving down prices. Similarly, in Europe, food production excesses must be stored or destroyed. In the U.S., as in Africa and South America, agribusinesses are taking over, leaving no bargaining power for small farmers.

Viewers get a frightening inside glimpse of price-setting and commodities trading practices at Cargill Inc., one of the major agricultural conglomerates in the world. The American Food for Peace program is questioned as a means of aid or a way to prevent people from becoming self-sufficient.

The Politics of Food

Program 3: Brazil

Length: 54:20 No.: Y8Z-87-03

Format: video

While up to 20 percent of the 40 million residents of Brazil enjoy the lavish fruits of rapid industrial growth and multinational agribusinesses, there are areas where one in eight children die of starvation before they are a year old. This program examines how plans laid in the 1960s to bring prosperity to Brazil backfired.

Wealth in Brazil is concentrated in large cities like Sao Paulo. Shantytowns on the edges of cities are teeming concentrations of filth and despair, where disease and an endless battle for survival are the norm. Further away are the homes and villages of the men who work in the sugar cane and cocoa fields, two crops that are farmed by multinationals in an attempt to ease the national debt, which is said to threaten the entire Western banking system. Small farmers, who continue to live in the country can grow their own food. However, they face harassment from huge corporations that want to take over their land. In Brazil, however, growing political awareness has made the poor impatient for change.

The Politics of Food

Program 4: Kerala/Bangladesh

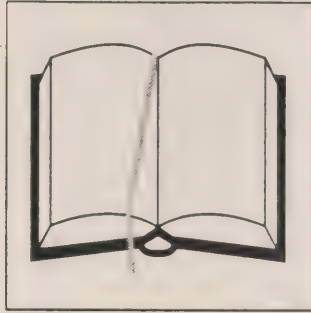

Length: 56:36 No.: Y8Z-87-04

Format: video

The province of Kerala, India, which conquered hunger through self-determination and an exemplary application of the democratic process, is contrasted with Bangladesh, where political patronage and unequal distribution of aid have kept the country in a state of near-famine since it broke away from Pakistan in 1971.

Despite a dense population and low per capita production of food products, social changes have led to a far more equitable food distribution system in Kerala than in Bangladesh, which had once been self sufficient. The program cites political corruption in Bangladesh as a major factor in preventing aid getting to the people who need it most, and blames British colonial jute farming for leaving the land vulnerable to famine. Years of stalling while Bangladesh officials mull over how to build an infrastructure to channel aid have kept the poor of the country illiterate, insecure, and ill.

In Kerala, on the other hand, families are small, all children go to school, and health care is free. Unlike countries where offsetting national debt leads to multinational control of agriculture, the priority in Kerala has been to become self sufficient, so when food aid is needed, it is grown locally and distributed by the poor to the poor.

Religion Philosophy

The Fifth Estate

The Fifth Estate has garnered some 50 national and international awards for its dedicated, investigative journalism. Unquestionably, The Fifth Estate has set and maintained its own high standards of excellence.

The Fifth Estate

A Journey Back

Length: 56:17 No.: Y8G-85-10
Format: video

In this powerful and painfully candid documentary, Jack Garfein, now a successful Broadway producer, returns to Auschwitz to confront his past. The sole survivor of his family, Garfein courageously searches for the truth behind the tragedy of the camps.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Man Alive

A unique award-winning series, Man Alive goes behind the headlines to look at controversial moral issues and the pain and triumph behind current events. The series has won wide praise for its sensitive treatment of a diverse range of complex issues.

Man Alive

Above and Below

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-88-01
Format: video

Ronald Reagan believes in it. So do millions of others. Yet astrology is scorned by sceptics and exploited by charlatans. Man Alive examines the ancient art that was once an essential part of our understanding of the universe.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

A Circle of Witches

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-88-07
Format: video

There are 100,000 witches in North America and every year the number grows. They cast spells, write rituals and teach others the craft. Margot Adler is a Wiccan priestess, a witch, as well as a journalist and scholar.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Aga Khan

Length: 24:50 No.: Y8L-86-05
Format: video

He is one of the most glamorous and mysterious men in the world. The Aga Khan lives amid the trappings of the international jet set, yet for 20 million Ismaili Muslims, he is the living Imam. This is a Man Alive exclusive: the first formal North American interview granted by His Highness the Aga Khan.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

A Glimpse of Heaven: Easter in the Soviet Union

Length: 56:20 No.: Y8R-86-01
Format: video

Awards: Gabriel Award for Outstanding Achievement in Religion Programming

Religious faith runs deep among Soviets despite decades of brutal attempts to eradicate organized religion. Approaching the millenium of Christianity in the U.S.S.R., this program looks at the resilience of human spirituality and the fearsome price many have paid for persisting in religious worship.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Man Alive

A Loving Place

Length: 27:50 No.: Y8L-85-15
Format: video

It's a regular school, but unlike any other. Located in Edmonton's inner core, the Alex Taylor Community School is a place where immigrants learn English and seniors play bingo for food prizes. This small United Nations is also a refuge where immigrant women learn to cope with loneliness. And then there's the hugging. It's a loving place.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

The Children of St. Nicholas

Length: 57:50 No.: Y8L-85-10
Format: video

Host Roy Bonisteel explores the world of choir schools from the richly storied atmosphere of Westminster Abbey to Toronto's inner city, to Brooklyn, New York where break-dancing and rapping mingle with Mozart. The patron saint of choir boys is St. Nicholas himself.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

Man Alive

Endless Journey

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-88-06
Format: video

Lesley Parrott is living a mother's nightmare. In 1987, her 11-year-old daughter Alison was abducted, raped and murdered. Her killer is still at large. This episode of Man Alive takes a look at the lonely journey of Lesley Parrott. In a society that is uncomfortable with death and doesn't sanction grief, she grieves openly and speaks of her struggle to cope and survive and keep her values intact.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

The Genial Fanatic

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-88-02
Format: video

Bill Mason has devoted a lifetime to a spiritual canoeing odyssey through Canada's most remote rivers and lakes. He shares his passion for the canoe, his joy in God's creation and his fanatical enthusiasm for the great Canadian wilderness through his films, paintings and books.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

The God Seekers

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-87-07
Format: video

High in the mountains of upstate New York, the Monastery and Temple of New Skete is the home of 10 monks who live, work and pray under the guidance of a spiritual leader of the American Orthodox Catholic Church. In this fascinating episode of Man Alive, the monks reveal their attitudes to their lives, both in spiritual and temporal terms, and participate in everyday activities — singing, working the monastery's lucrative dog-breeding business, and worshipping with others, including nuns, affiliated with the monastery.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Journey to Prague

Length: 27:50 No.: Y8L-86-09

Format: video

Awards: Yorkton Short Film and Video Festival, Canada: Golden Sheaf Award (Best Documentary under 30 minutes)

In 1939, Otto Lowy left his home in Prague for England, never to see his family again. As an adult, Lowy has returned many times to the city to come to terms with his survival and to deal with the horror of the Nazi occupation of his beloved country.

Man Alive's award-winning producer/director David Cherniack has captured Lowy's pilgrimage in Journey to Prague, a stunning visual tribute to the Prague ghetto.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

June

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-88-08

Format: video

A profile of June Callwood, writer, social activist, civil libertarian and recipient of two Orders of Canada. She's been called Canada's Mother Theresa, a bleeding heart, a pathological optimist and an emotional bully. Man Alive explores the many sides of this complex and remarkable Canadian.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

May's Miracle

Length: 26:02 No.: Y8L-81-01

Format: video

Although there is a medical term for Leslie Lemke's condition, his mother May calls it a miracle. Through her determined teaching and support, this mentally handicapped, blind 29-year-old with cerebral palsy has exhibited an amazing aptitude for music.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

The Temples of Mammon

Length: 27:18 No.: Y8L-87-06

Format: video

In a thoughtful analysis of the shopping mall, Man Alive describes this controlled retail environment as a phenomenon that has changed our values and even the course of our lives. Shopping malls have eliminated the concept of neighborhood shopping and replaced it with an artificial environment divorced from reality. In shopping centres such as the West Edmonton Mall, not only are the shopping opportunities vast, but the space has also become an entertainment centre and hotel complex where visitors need never step outdoors. Most frightening, these private concerns can freely discriminate against undesirable visitors, especially the old, the very young, teenagers and the poor; in other words, those with little money to spend.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

When Love is Wrong

Length: 25:00 No.: Y8L-87-08

Format: video

Some North American priests are expressing a growing dissatisfaction with a conservative hierarchy in Rome that refuses to acknowledge their demands for the abolition of celibacy and obedience as criteria for the priesthood. As a result, record numbers of priests are reluctantly leaving the Church. A thoughtful look at a revolution that threatens the future of the Roman Catholic Church.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

The Wheel of Rebirth

Length: 27:00 No.: Y8L-88-14

Format: video

The Man Alive crew was granted access to sacred rituals never before shown on television for this fascinating exploration of reincarnation through the world of Tibetan Buddhism. Filmed on location in India, the program includes interviews with the Dalai Lama and with a 16-year-old Canadian boy recognized as a reincarnated lama.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

• To Mend the World

Length: Part 1: 55:34 No.: X4J-87-01
Part 2: 30:52

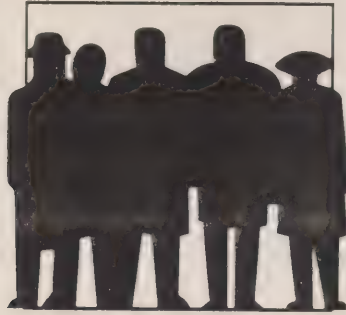

Format: video

Awards: Gabriel Award

Rich in the texture of human emotions, To Mend the World presents the Holocaust through the eyes and hearts of artists who survived Nazi concentration camps. The program features paintings, never before seen publicly, by people who found ways to give form to positive life forces despite the atrocities they endured. A cross-section of first-person accounts gives a sense of what these people went through, and Canadian philosopher Emile Fackenheim attempts to give some meaning and perspective to the events of the Holocaust.

Price: 1/2" $360; 3/4" $400;

Sociology

• The Generation Connection

Length: 30:00 No.: Y8R-89-05
Format: video

The Generation Connection is a powerful presentation that juxtaposes a group of teens and a group of seniors. Through a series of interactions a number of issues are explored: perceptions about the role of both seniors and teens in our society, the "generation gap," goal setting, parenting and family issues, spirituality, death and dying and the aging process. There is a strong statement about self-esteem and the need to believe in and develop our potential at any age.

Price: 1/2" $248; 3/4" $275;

Man Alive

A unique award-winning series, Man Alive goes behind the headlines to look at controversial moral issues and the pain and triumph behind current events. The series has won wide praise for its sensitive treatment of a diverse range of complex issues.

Man Alive

A Lesbian in the Pulpit

Length: 30:00 No.: Y8L-89-17
Format: video

Sally Boyle is a minister in the United Church of Canada; she is also a lesbian. Now she is caught in the middle of the controversy about whether homosexuals should be ordained as ministers in the church. This program is a useful discussion starter for exploring human sexuality and current social attitudes towards homosexuality.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

All Their Own

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-85-08
Format: video

With their black bonnets and horse-drawn buggies, few groups attract as much curiosity as the traditional Mennonites. Isolated in scattered communities across the U.S. and Canada, they have preserved a way of life of centuries past. Today they are again retreating, this time from the threats of modern life. Dropping their customary prohibitions, traditional Mennonites speak on camera about their life, and Man Alive cameras enter formerly closed Mennonite homes.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

At Home with Anna

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-86-13
Format: video

The story of Anna Kalyas, the 76-year-old grandmother from Kitchener, Ontario, who for more than 30 years has opened her home to those whom society has discarded and disowned. Herself a refugee from war-ravaged Europe, Anna has sheltered other refugees when they had nowhere to go; she's taken in ex-cons and abandoned teenage mothers, derelicts and former psychiatric patients, the forgotten of society who fall between the cracks of the modern welfare state.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Better Babies

Length: 30:00 No.: Y8L-89-22
Format: video

This program takes a closer look at the quest for the better baby. Competitive parents start their child's education even before birth, and kids on the fast track are graduating from diapers to Shakespeare before they hit kindergarten. This accelerated learning can be a recipe for genius — or disaster.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

For the Love of Baby Junkies

Length: 27:00 No.: Y8L-87-04
Format: video

In Harlem, 82-year-old Mother Hale is a legend in her own time. Over the years, she has cared for more than 600 babies, the innocent victims of parental drug abuse. While drug-addicted babies are still prevalent, more and more babies she cares for have AIDS.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Gentle Teaching

Length: 30:00 No.: Y8L-89-08
Format: video

How do you protect and help the mentally handicapped from harming themselves through self-abusive behavior? In traditional treatment they are institutionalized, straight-jacketed and given electro-convulsive therapy. A new but controversial treatment suggests the opposite approach: showering these people with friendship and love.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Laughter

Length: 30:00 No.: Y8L-89-18
Format: video

Laughter is good for you. In fact, as we discover in this program, humor plays an important role in keeping people human.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Lifers

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-87-03
Format: video

The official debate over capital punishment is over, but the value of life imprisonment is now being questioned in some circles. In this episode, Man Alive takes viewers into maximum security prisons, where "lifers" candidly discuss their crimes and their inability to lead productive lives that might enable them to "pay" for their crimes. Long incarceration often leads to suicide or at least mental and physical deterioration, and costs the taxpayer an enormous sum that can never be paid back. (There are two other programs in this CBC Prison Trilogy: Prison Mother, Prison Daughter and The Lifer and the Lady. See Sociology and Law.)

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

The Mighty Quinn

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-85-02
Format: video

Father Vaughan Quinn, a Montreal priest, runs an extraordinary alcohol rehabilitation centre in downtown Detroit. A film portrait of a charismatic, complex man and his unique and successful approach to alcohol treatment, this episode of Man Alive is also a searing look at alcoholism.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Off the Street

Length: 27:20 No.: Y8L-88-05

Format: video

Covenant House, a haven from life on the streets for young runaways, helps teenagers leave behind the hopeless cycle of drugs, booze and prostitution that traps them.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Old Like Me

Length: 26:50 No.: Y8L 85 07

Format: video

The story of a young woman who knows how it feels to be old; she's been there. Pat Moore spent three years "in character" as an 80-year old to find out how society treats the elderly, and neglects their physical and emotional needs. She talks to Roy Bonisteel about her experiences and about her passionate and relentless advocacy of the elderly in society.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

Penetang: By Reason of Insanity

Length: 27:26 No.: Y8L-86-12

Format: video

Ontario's maximum security psychiatric hospital in Penetanguishene has long conjured up images of violence and heinous crime, and like most mental health institutions, has largely remained out of reach of TV cameras. In this Man Alive episode, award-winning producer/director Azza el Sissi filmed aspects of life inside Penetang, officially known as Oak Ridge, and spoke with patients and staff, exploring some of the most pressing issues at the heart of this forbidding institution.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

Man Alive

S.O.S. Children's Village

Length: 27:21 No.: Y8L-86-04

Format: video

At the end of World War II, a remarkable organization was created to care for thousands of war orphans. Today that organization is as active as ever but in a new role. The first Canadian S.O.S. Children's Village has been built in Nova Scotia. It cares for children who don't fit into, and can't tolerate, foster homes.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

The Nature of Things

For over 25 years this internationally acclaimed science series has rewarded viewers with vivid explorations into the wonders of nature and technology. The Nature of Things entertains as well as educates with lucid explanations for everything from animal behavior to mechanical operations. Host David Suzuki and the production team show rare dedication and commitment to helping us understand the world in which we live.

The Nature of Things

Euthanasia

Length: 46:15 No.: WOF-89-02

Format: video

The boundary between life and death is no longer clear. Modern technology has made it possible to postpone, control or induce death. But when does it become morally legitimate to pull the plug or guide the patient into an "easy" death? In Holland, doctors perform euthanasia upon patient request, but euthanasia is strongly opposed by most doctors in North America where every year 300,000 people spend their final days on life-support systems. Euthanasia examines both sides of the debate.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

The Familiar Face of Love

Length: 46:18 No.: WOF-86-10

Format: video

How do human beings choose their mates? Falling in love is a relatively new notion, even in our own society. In many parts of the world marriages are arranged by the families. This film explores the psychological and social forces that shape our feelings and ideas about attractiveness in the opposite sex. Our upbringing, culture and experience combine to form a pattern of response. Filmed in Israel, California and Canada, this is a fascinating venture into a subject close to every human heart.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Little Wars

Length: 46:20 No.: WOF-89-13

Format: video

What do Ping-Pong and the Cuban Missile Crisis have in common? The study of game theory reveals new insights into large-scale conflict resolution. Game theory is challenging traditional ideas of competition in which there are winners and losers. And contrary to popular wisdom, nice guys don't finish last.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

U.S.S.R.: The Changing of the Guard

Length: Part 1: 47:59

No.: WOF-87-12

Part 2: 47:17

No.: WOF-87-13

Format: video

This engrossing episode on The Nature of Things investigates both the social and economic shakeup by a new generation of Russian leaders. The cameras take viewers across the country to an ethnic festival in the Estonian port of Tallin; to the beautiful but ecologically threatened waters of Lake Baikal in Siberia; to the workplaces of Russians of all walks of life — from doctors to farm workers. The program takes a look at the physical and social backdrop to the new era of change.

Price (each): 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Women of Kerala

Length: 26:55 No.: WOF-86-09

Format: video

Women in the densely populated state of Kerala in the southern tip of India have taken control of their own fertility. With 1% of the land and 4% of the population of the country, the people of Kerala saw in the 1960s the ominous prospect of their population doubling every 25 years. The birthrate has now been reduced by almost 40% in little more than a decade, due to the rapid improvement in infant and child health and the strong tradition of independence and education among the women of Kerala. Every child goes to school and every village has daycare. Women here, 70% of whom are literate (compared with 36% in the rest of India), are engineers, bank managers and doctors. These free and independent women with a zest for knowledge are changing the future without losing the past.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

• Prison Mother, Prison Daughter

Length: 87:35 No.: Y8R-86-04
Format: video

A candid and unsparing look at two women in trouble, this program shows Marilyn St. Pierre who at 29, is a veteran of the prison system and Darlene Baldwin, a 24-year-old middle-class woman who found herself unwittingly involved with narcotics smugglers. The road for both leads to the women's penitentiary in Kingston, Ontario where Marilyn breaks parole and begins her ill-fated struggle to regain custody of her infant son and where Darlene emerges relatively unscathed after serving less than a year's time.

(There are two other programs in this CBC Prison Trilogy: Lifers in the Man Alive series, and The Lifer and the Lady. See Sociology and Law.)

Price: 1/2" $218; 3/4" $360

• Ukrainian Canadians: A Time to Remember

Length: 60:00 No.: X4J-89-01
Format: video

The year 1988 was special for all Ukrainians. It marked the 1,000th anniversary of their conversion to Christianity. Ukrainian culture has flourished in Canada. More children on the prairies learn Ukrainian folk dancing than play hockey. This documentary special is a celebration of the Ukrainian story of hardships and triumphs, of a people determined to thrive not only economically, but spiritually and culturally, in a multicultural country. Recommended for: Multiculturalism, History, Social Studies.

Price: 1/2" $225; 3/4" $250

Technology

The Fifth Estate

The Fifth Estate has garnered some 50 national and international awards for its dedicated, investigative journalism. Unquestionably, The Fifth Estate has set and maintained its own high standards of excellence.

The Fifth Estate

A Fun Bunch of Guys

Length: 15:33 No.: Y86-89-01

Format: video

How well does the Japanese approach to building cars work in a new Toyota plant in Cambridge, Ontario? The Fifth Estate visits the plant and takes a look at how well Japanese efficiency and teamwork is working.

Price: 1/2" $69; 3/4" $140

The Nature of Things

For over 25 years this internationally acclaimed science series has rewarded viewers with vivid explorations into the wonders of nature and technology. The Nature of Things entertains as well as educates with lucid explanations for everything from animal behavior to mechanical operations. Host David Suzuki and the production team show rare dedication and commitment to helping us understand the world in which we live.

The Nature of Things

Aircraft

Length: 50:23 No.: WOF-85-02

Format: video

A vivid account of one of the first airplane rides by the Wright brothers' niece sets the tone of excitement and imagination that has dominated the development of flying machines. Aircraft explores the safety-conscious design of modern planes and the new designs that are revolutionizing today's aviation.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

A Sky Full of Planes

Length: 46:15 No.: WOF-89-06

Format: video

Filmed in and around the busy Atlanta and Toronto international airports, A Sky Full of Planes looks at the congested world of commercial air travel and new technologies that help air-traffic controllers do their jobs.

In the last decade, the number of passengers is up about 50 percent and there are just not enough runways or air traffic controllers to meet the demand. New technologies should help increase air safety in the 1990s, but passenger safety will continue to depend on the uniquely human skills, intelligence and judgment of air-traffic controllers.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Jellyfish of the Sky

Length: 18:35 No.: WOF-87-04

Format: video

Archival illustrations and film excerpts highlight this fascinating account of how hot air balloons came to be invented and were later adapted for the construction of airships. Jellyfish of the Sky also traces the role these aircraft have played in history and reveals new uses for these airborne wonders — both technological and recreational.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Next Year's Model

Length: 47:15 No.: WOF-86-01

Format: video

A century ago, it was a curiosity, a passionate obsession among a handful of inventors. Now the design and production of the automobile, a symbol of freedom and wealth, is being radically altered by computer technology. But will the new partnership between the car and the computer address the problems of energy and land depletion, pollution, loss of non-renewable resources and human lives? Next Year's Model examines the marriage that has brought together two of the most powerful technologies we've ever invented.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Nuclear Power: The Hot Debate

Length: 47:00 No.: WOF-87-05

Format: video

A timely analysis in the aftermath of Chernobyl, this program explores the safety and economics of nuclear energy. Is this the best method of generating the power we need, or is it an expensive way of putting our future at risk?

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Radar: Visions from Space

Length: 30:00 No.: WOF-87-09

Format: video

Since its development in England in the 1930s, radar has been used for a multitude of purposes — from intercepting enemy aircraft during the Second World War to taking high-resolution images of areas such as the Sahara Desert or Amazon rainforests. This program explains how such developments have heightened scientists' knowledge of climate patterns, geology and the environment. Now technologies such as stereo-mapping produce three-dimensional radar images, giving experts spectacular views not only of the entire globe but, soon, of the planet Venus.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

The Nature of Things

Voices in the Wind

Length: 50:20 No.: WOF-84-11

Format: video

The pipe organ, says narrator Margaret Pacsu, is "a lasting achievement of human technology designed to create all the complexities of music out of wood, metal and air." This program explores the science, art and handcrafting of the pipe organ. A look at its dynamics includes casting of pipes, organ construction and measuring of acoustics. Highlights include an organ recital and an analysis of the sounds an organ produces. A physicist, a musicologist and a concert organist participate in a discussion.

Price: 1/2" $109; 3/4" $160

- Above and Below 48
 Accidents nucléaires 16
 A Christmas Past 10
 A Circle of Healing 35
 A Circle of Witches 48
 A Fun Bunch of Guys 56
 Aga Khan 48
 Against Oblivion: Stone and Metal 3
 Against Reason:
 A Portrait of Jack McClelland 2
 Age of the Composer, The 5
 Age of the Individual, The 5
 A Glimpse of Heaven: Easter in the Soviet Union 48
 AIDS and the Future 28
 AIDS — A Report 29
 Aircraft 56
 A Journey Back 48
 A Lesbian in the Pulpit 52
 All That Glistens 3
 All Their Own 52
 A Loving Place 48
 Amazonia: The Road to the End of the Forest 13
 Anatomy of Eloquence, The 29
 And You Shall Be Heard: Regina v. Clow, Part 1 22
 And You Shall Be Heard: Regina v. Clow, Part 2 22
 Animagination 16
 An Interview with Frédéric Back 2
 An Ordinary Heroine 28
A Planet for the Taking 12
 A Pretence of Performance 29
 Arctic Exiles, The 34
 Arctic Islands: A Matter of Time 35
 A Sky Full of Planes 56
 A Space for the Spirit 2
 A Stitch In Time 28
 Asylum 28
 At Home with Anna 52
 At War with Death 12
 Audrey McLaughlin: A Leadership Convention 34
 Bach and the Fugue 3
 Balancing Act, The 38
 Bats: Piercing the Dark 38
 Better Babies 52
 Beyond Fear 19
 Bird Hospital 38
 Block Parents Are Good Friends 10
 Blood of Our Children, The 30
 Bold Steps — A Portrait of the National Ballet of Canada 2
 Borne on the Wind 38
 Brazil 44
 Breaking the Silence 35
 Breathing Sea, The 38
 Burgess Shale 38
 Call for Help 29
 Call to the Bar 22
 Canadian Parliamentary Video, The 44
 Captain James Cook 18
 Carmen 16
CBC-TV News in Review 8
 Charlotte Whitton 19
 Chautauqua Girl 2
 Cheese 38
 Children of St. Nicholas, The 48
 Children Who Learned to Listen, The 30
 Children's Television 26
 Cinéma de Frédéric Back (Le) 16
 Coming to Grips with the Grippe 30
 Conducting 5
 Coping and Caring 29
Country Canada 13
 Cracking the Shell 29
 Cultivating a Disaster 13
 Currents of Change 13
 Dark Side of Hope, The 29
 Degas 2
 Dene Priests 34
 Desperate Days, The 18
 Different Practices 22
 Digging Into the Past 41
 Dinosaurs: Remains to be Seen 38
 Doctors of Tomorrow 30
 Dreamspeaker 34
 Dr. Marion Hilliard 19
 Ducks in Danger 39
 Ellesmere Island 35
 Emily Carr 2
 Emily Murphy 19
 En cerf-volant le Québec 16
 Endless Journey 48
 Environmental Alert 41
 Ernest Thompson Seton: Keeper of the Wilds 2
 Essentials of Bach's Keyboard Output, The 3
 Euthanasia 53
 Expo '86 : Aujourd'hui j'ai vu mon rêve 16
 Face Value 30
 Falcons by the Sea 39
 Familiar Face of Love, The 53
Fifth Estate, The 2, 28, 34, 38, 48, 56
 Fin mot de la chose (Le) 16
 Fire and Sand: The Mysteries of Glass 3
 Flowering of Harmony, The 4
 Fly Fishing 5
Focus North 34
 Forgotten Genius 19
 For the Love of Baby Junkies 52
 Generation Connection, The 52
 Genial Fanatic, The 4, 48
 Gentle Teaching 52
Glenn Gould Plays Bach 3
 Glorious Mud 3
 God Seekers, The 48
 Goldberg Variations, The 3
 Golden Mountain, The:
 The Chinese in Canada 18
 Great Debate, The 18
 Great Lakes: Troubled Waters (Update) 13
 Great Lone Land, The 18
 Great Spirit, The 34
 Grey Owl 18, 34
 Grizzlies in the Mist 38
 Growing Pains 2
Hand and Eye 3
 Hanuman Langurs: Monkeys of India 39
 Hearing Things 30
 Hidden Agenda 13
 Hidden Healers, The 28
 Home of the Birds 13
 Horrid B.C. Business, The 18
 How a Bird Fills the Bill 39
 How Fish Swim 39
 Howe Sound: Poisoned Waters 13
 H.R. MacMillan 19
 Human Nature 12
Ici Radio-Canada : le français de l'heure! 16
 I'll Get There Somehow 28
 Improving on Nature 12
 In Champlain's Footsteps 18
 Incredible Upstream Struggle, The 35
 I Never Planned On This 30
 Inner Healer, The 29
Inside the Box 26
 Interview avec Frédéric Back 16
 Invisible Law, The 22
 Island of Seals 35
 Islands at the Edge 39
 J. Armand Bombardier 19
 Jellyfish of the Sky 56
 John Wesley Dafoe 20
Journal, The 28
 Journey to Prague 49
 June 49
 Keewatin Controversy, The 34
 Kerala/Bangladesh 45
 Kidney Stones 30
 Kids Go Wild 39
 Kingdom on Red River 19
 Knowing Nose, The 30
 Known and the Unknown, The 5
 Land God Gave to Kane, The 35
 Last Spike, The 18
 Laughter 52
Lawyers 22
 Let the Wild Things Grow 13
 Lifer and the Lady, The 22
 Lifers 52
 Little Old Lady on the Edge of Nowhere 2
 Little Wars 53
 Living Ocean, The 41

- Love of Gardens, The 3
 Lucy Maud Montgomery: The Road to Green Gables 4
 Magnificent Gift, The 35
 Making Music 41
Man Alive 4, 23, 28, 35, 48, 52
 Man Who Planted Trees, The 4
 May's Miracle 49
 Mighty Quinn, The 52
 Milkweed 39
 Mississauga Jones 2
Mr. Dressup 10
 Mummies and Maya 41
 Muscle Fibre 30
Music of Man, The 4
 My Daddy's Ears are Broken 29
 Mystery of Henry Moore, The 5
 Mythmakers 12
 Natural Connections 39
National Dream, The 18
Nature of Things, The 5, 13, 29, 35, 38, 53, 56
 Neem Tree: A Natural Insecticide 31
 New Backs for Old (Update) 31
 New Voices for Man 4
 Next Year's Model 56
 Niagara Escarpment, The: A Rock Video 39
 No Known Cure 28
 Northern Wanderers: George River Caribou 40
 Nuclear Power: The Hot Debate 56
 Office, The: Is It Making You Sick? 28
 Off the Street 53
 Old Like Me 53
 One Northern Summer: The Incredible Upstream Struggle 35
 One Northern Summer: Island of Seals 35
 One Northern Summer: The Polar Bear Capital of the World 35
 Oujebougamou 34
 Out of Madness, People Grow 29
 Pacific Scandal, The 18
 Pains of Performance, The 31
 Parting of the Ways, The 5
 Passionate Canadians, The 5
 Pauline Johnson 20, 36
 Pedlars and the Earl, The 19
 Penetang: By Reason of Insanity 53
 Père Murray 20
 Polar Bear Capital of the World, The 35
Politics of Food, The 44
 Powerful Medicine 31
 Prévert, rose ou bleu? 16
 Prison Mother, Prison Daughter 54
 Pulp Mills 34
 Quiver of Life, The 4
 Radar: Visions from Space 56
 Radio-Canada, ça se voit! 16
 Railway General, The 18
 Rare Breeds 40
 Real Cost of Power, The 13
 Recycling 14
 Restless Sky, The 40
 Return of the Sea Otter, The 40
 Return to the Land 14
 Riel 19, 36
 Robert Bateman: Artist and Naturalist 5
 Roger Tory Peterson: Portrait of a Birdwatcher (Update) 40
 Rotation 40
 Rough Justice 23
 Runaway Brain, The 13
 Sea of Mountains, The 18
 Sea of Slaughter 14
 Sea Raven, The 40
 Serving Time 14
 Shadow and the Spirit, The 36
 S.O.S. Children's Village 53
 Sound or Unsound 5
 Space Trek 42
 Spas: Magic or Medicine? 31
 Spirit in a Landscape: The People Beyond 36
 Spirit Speaking Through 36
 Spirit That Moves, The 36
 Stein Valley, The 40
 Stewards of Justice 22
 Strangers At Our Door 23
 Strike Force 14
 Stunning Sounds 40
 Subdue the Earth 12
 Sudan 44
 Téléjournal (Le) 16
 Téléroman (Le) 16
 Television and the Consumer 26
 Television as an Artistic Medium 26
 Television Documentary, The 26
 Television Drama 26
 Television News 26
 Temagami: The Last Stand 35
 Temples of Mammon, The 49
 This Land: North Slope 36
 Thoroughbred: A Magic Way of Going 41
 Three-Piece Suits 22
 Ties That Bind: Fibres 3
 'Til Death Do Us Part 22
 To Mend the World 49
 Touch Wood 4
 Tree That Changed the World, The 41
 Trials of Lord Selkirk, The 19
 Turning to Dust 41
 Ukrainian Canadians: A Time to Remember 54
 Ultimate Slavery, The 12
 Understanding Animals 42
Under the Umbrella Tree, Programs 1 — 5 10
 U.S.A. 44
 U.S.S.R.: The Changing of the Guard 53
 Vision of the Blind, The 31
 Voices in the Wind 56
 Vortex 41
 Warrior from Within, The 35
 Watching Birds 42
What's New? 10
 Wheel of Rebirth, The 49
 When Love is Wrong 49
 When the Eagle Lands on the Moon 35
 When the Wells Run Dry 14
 Where There's Smoke 41
 Whitecomers, The: The Promised Land 36
 Who Needs Nature? 12
 Wilderness Under Siege 36
Winners, The 19
 Women of Kerala 53
Wonderstruck Presents 41

3 1761 11550665 1

CBC Enterprises
Les Entreprises Radio-Canada

Box 500, Station A
Toronto, Ontario, Canada M5W 1E6
(416) 975-6384

Printed in Canada 0890